

From Dies and Commander Tame de
Nore, former governor of Angola.

Planned to Seize President.

President Carnegia and the members of his cabinet visited Oporto the last week in January, and the revolutionaries planned to act on that occasion by seizing the president and his ministers and forcing their resignation.

They were unable to carry out this plan, as there was not sufficient time to inform certain elements upon which they had counted. Therefore they decided to effect the coup at 4 a. m. on Feb. 4, as two of the ministers still remained in Oporto, and this plan was carried out.

The revolutionaries occupied the military headquarters in Oporto, the bridges across the River Douro, and the post and telegraph offices, and attacked the officers' mess building, where the minister of commerce and other officers were sleeping.

The minister of commerce and the Marquis Picalho, captain of the Oporto artillery, escaped through a back window. The marquis joined his loyal regiment in the Oporto artillery barracks, and thence was ordered to Coli-bra to organize a column to march on Oporto. The minister of war immediately left Lisbon for the north and established headquarters at Aveiro, whence he ordered an encircling movement on Oporto. Troops from the First, Second, and Third divisions of the north were mobilized.

DEMAND MEXICO SHUT DOWN ALL FOREIGN SCHOOLS

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
MEXICO CITY, Feb. 7.—The Mexican teachers' union and political organization, backing the Mexican Federation of Labor, this morning demanded the minister of education to close all the foreign schools at once, as foreign teaching is detrimental to Mexican unity and nationality. The American school in Mexico City, in which there are 200 American and 600 other children, largely Mexican, as well as the German school, with 1,100 pupils, and three French schools are the principal targets of this protest. These schools are largely attended by the children of the better class Mexican families, including children of members of the government.

LIMA, Peru, Feb. 7.—The American good will flyers left Pisco this morning at 8:30, arriving at Ilo at 1:50 p.m., where the planes were anchored. The pilots returned to Mollendo by launch.
From Mollendo the flyers will take a special train to La Paz, Bolivia. Pisco is the home town of the famous Peruvian brandy of that name, and is also famous for its hospitality to coastwise visitors. During the flight the flyers passed over the wreck of the Peruvian

BOTH CHINESE FACTIONS TURN DOWN U. S. PLAN

Refuse Plea for Safety Zone in Shanghai.

BULLETIN.
HANKOW, Feb. 8.—Tuesday.—
(P)—Eugene Chen, nationalist foreign minister, was in conference today with British Charge d'Affaires O'Malley for the first time since the recent suspension of negotiations, when Chen said he would negotiate no further until Great Britain withdrew the troops being concentrated at Shanghai.

SHANGHAI, Feb. 7, Midnight.—Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg's proposal for the neutralization of the Shanghai international settlement apparently is not favored by either the northern or southern Chinese factions, according to information available in both camps tonight.

Gen. Chang Tso-lin, leader of the Fengtien forces, declared he might favor the American proposal for Shanghai if Mr. Kellogg made a similar proposal to include Hankow and Kinkiang, which are controlled by the southerners.
Eugene Chen, nationalist foreign minister, according to Japanese reports from Hankow, declared Shanghai's troubles are due to the military preparations of the British and Marshal Sun Chuan-fang, ally of the northern Chinese, hence if trouble develops the responsibility rests with the British and Marshal Sun, who are trying to prevent the Chinese from controlling their most important commercial port.

Nationalists "Absolutely Opposed."
"The nationalists are absolutely opposed to the Kellogg proposal to make Shanghai a neutral zone," Chen declared. "While Gen. Chang Tso-lin and the British may support the scheme, the nationalists do not want it.
Sun-fu, nationalist minister of communications, asked, 'Are the powers planning armed intervention? We do not see the necessity for the protection of our territories by foreigners.'
C. T. Wang, unofficial nationalist representative here, who made the original proposal for the neutralization of the Shanghai area, favors the Kellogg proposal, but declares the nationalists must have police control of the neutral area about the foreign settlements as a preliminary step to the ultimate Chinese police control of the foreign areas.

Sun May Flip to South.
The decision of the Peking government to order the customs administration to collect the surtaxes is likely to precipitate further complications with Shanghai, owing to the fact that Marshal Sun Chuan-fang already is making the collections here independently of the Peking government.
It is believed that should Marshal
Sun be deprived of the customs sur-taxes it would cause him to become antagonistic to the foreign authorities here and possibly he would flip over to the southern side. The location of the custom house within the international settlement is liable to provide

VICTORY HALTS DRIVE ON SHANGHAI

By a sudden attack, the northern
Chinese army, under Marshal Sun
Chuan-fang, drove the Cantonese forces from their advance base at Chuchow, 200 miles south of Shanghai.
Thus, for a time at least, the drive of the southern Chinese army on Hankow and Shanghai has been halted. Capture of Hangchow, Sun's base in Chekiang province, would open the way to Shanghai along the railroad from Hangchow to Shanghai.

Despatches last night indicated both Chinese factions would reject Secretary Kellogg's plan for the neutralization of Shanghai.
Two American vessels, carrying refugees, were fired upon by Chinese near Pailung, while en route from Chungking to Ichang. The rescue of Americans from the interior of China is becoming increasingly difficult.

Further halt for the Chinese desiring control of the foreign area.

of American refugees above Hankow on the Yangtze river is becoming increasingly difficult because of low

Mr. Lockhart reported that the Iping and Chilai, two American vessels belonging to the Yangtze Rapids upon while en route from Chung King to Ichang with American refugees aboard. No Americans were injured, but Mr. Lockhart warned that trans-

CANTONESE FACE SPLIT

SHANGHAI, Feb. 7.—American refugees reaching Shanghai report anti-bolshevik meetings at Hankow and Wuchang. The Cantonese military forces are trying to suppress the meetings. Newspapers reporting the capture of Shanghai and other important cities by the Cantonese are being circulated in Hankow.

There is further evidence also of a rift among the Nationalists, over bolshevism, with the split extending to the army.
While Gen. Chiang Kai-shek, the Cantonese commander, with his Russian adviser, M. Galens, now is in Kiangsi province directing the drive on Shanghai, Gen. Tang Shao-chi, second in command, with Gen. Tang Yenta, chief of the political department, have returned to Changsha. They are threatening to withdraw the Hunanese support owing to the bolshevism rampant there.

Soviet Consul Acts as Boss.
Dr. John H. Foster asserts the soviet consul openly directs the Cantonese at Changsha. The consulate is opposite Yale-in-China university, where there remain three Americans who are trying to avert the seizure of the $1-000,000 investment.
Three American women who were detained in Changsha after nightfall, where martial law forbade traffic, were taken to Yale-in-China under a police escort. In order to pass the various sentries it was necessary to assert they were Russian women.
All parades, including one recently of 40,000, pass through the soviet con-sulate grounds, where they are reviewed.
In order to avert the Cantonese seizure of the American Episcopal General and Women's hospitals at Wuchang, opposite Hankow, Bishop Root has leased both to the Nationalist army, thus hoping to retain the title. The American doctors, nurses and also the clergy there are withdrawing. All

CROARKIN TO ASK MURDER TRIAL BE DELAYED TODAY

Attorneys for Harold Croarkin, 26 year old slayer of Walter Schmitt, who was 6 years old, declared yesterday they will seek a postponement when the murder trial is called this morning before Chief Justice William J. Lindsay of the Criminal court. The judge indicated he would force the case to trial unless State's Attorney Crowe, who expects to try the case in person,
agreed to the continuance.
Michael J. Ahern, who with Thomas
D. Nash, will appear for Croarkin, stated yesterday that Dr. Phil Larkin, an important defense witness, is out of the city and will not return for at least two weeks. The physician has long suffered from Croarkin and is expected to testify concerning the defendant's mental idiosyncrasies. The defense will be insane.

A Symphony in Satinwood

THE lovely antique satinwood table pictured was built about 1795 (this age verified by experts of both the British and American Governments), and only recently brought from Glasgow by Colby's. Like many of the pieces brought from Great Britain, it has been so well preserved that time has only mellowed its Beauty with no lessening of usefulness. The connoisseur will appreciate the loveliness of the figured satinwood with its delicate inlay of holly and mahogany, and will recognize the table as one of the most exquisite of its kind to be found.

You will find in the Colby antique galleries one of America's finest collections, continually being augmented by the arrival of rare pieces from Colby representatives at old-world sources.

You will find, too, that Colby antiques are chosen not for mere age but for artistic merit and historic interest as well. The displays are always worth seeing, and visitors are cordially welcomed.

COUNCIL GROUP TO ACT FRIDAY IN SCHOOL ROW

O. K. of Vopicka, Raymer Believed Likely.

After a three months' delay the city council's schools committee is slated for a showdown next Friday morning when the confirmation of Mayor Dever's appointments to the board of education will be made.

The aldermen would up their investigation last night after a three hour session. At its close, no more names were to be heard and a roll call was set as a special order of business at Friday's meeting.

Charles Vopicka and Walter J. Raymer, although the latter failed to appear for questioning, apparently will be approved. At least half the committee, and perhaps a majority, however, it is forecast, will vote against Otto L. Schmidt and Mrs. W. S. Schwan, around whom the storm has been worst.

Fight in Council Sure.

In any event, a minority report is certain. That means the fight will go to the council floor. There, barring a coup, the mayor's majority should win the appointments over.

Vopicka's committee session, like that of the past, rang with charges and countercharges, with the usual names and applause from the gallery. Most of the debating, however, came from witnesses.

Miss Margaret Haley of the Teachers' Federation and Mrs. J. D. McCune of the Woman's City club were opponents in the first clash.

For nearly an hour Miss Haley had accused the school board, Mrs. Hefferan, especially, for "throttling" the teachers and favoring the schools by classifying pupils into industrial and academic groups.

Mrs. McCune Approves Division.

"I want to say that I approve of the dual curriculum," replied Mrs. McCune. "The segregation of modern pupils is modern, scientific, and progressive."

From her seat, Miss Haley started to ask, "What do these clubwomen know about schools?" when Ald. O. F. Ryan interjected:

"Do you say you favor giving the poor man's son an industrial and the rich man's son an academic education?"

"I did not," Mrs. McCune replied. "But I do favor a balanced curriculum, so that pupils who otherwise would drop out may be fitted for that for which they are best fitted."

Mrs. McCune added that committee from her club had found the schools, under Supt. McAndrew, in "splendid condition."

John L. McNamara, representing local 14, School Engineers' union, echoed Mrs. McCune's defense of the schools. He said, he had, in fact, heard Mrs. Hefferan, John Fitzpatrick, president of the Chicago Federation of Labor, made this report:

"This is the second time this local and this man have betrayed the C. F. of L., which is against Mrs. Hefferan. Let this little group sneaks around in the dark and acts otherwise."

Testimony by half a dozen other witnesses, parents, and teachers followed. Mrs. Bradley Carr, representing the

CHICAGO FIREMEN FIGHT EVANSTON BLAZE

DUCE BARS REPORTERS WHO ARE ANTI-FASCIST FROM PRESS SYNDICATE

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

ROME, Feb. 7.—The decision of the special committee for the admission of suitable candidates into the syndicate of newspaper men has created a sensation, many prominent journalists having been excluded, and others admitted with reservations. All known anti-Fascists were left out altogether, while reservations were made for seventy-three of those admitted. Most of these already have filed protests to the secretary-general of the Fascist party, requesting investigations into their pasts. The special committee strongly denies the accumulation of partiality and unfairness.

Rogers Park parents, who called a school "strike," attacked Mrs. Hefferan because she did not aid in building a new school in that district. Under questioning from Ald. Jacob Arvey, Mrs. Carr admitted that five different suits had been objected to by delegations of residents.

Other testimony, all against Mrs. Hefferan, dealt chiefly with her alleged failure to heed the wishes of parents in school affairs.

None of the four appointees was present at the meeting and, unless Mr. Raymer changes his mind and appears Friday, none of them will be heard further. The proposed questioning of Supt. McAndrew, it was indicated, also will be delayed until after action on the appointees.

RETURNS BOY TO BRIDEWELL.

William Stone, 18 years old, is going out to the Bridewell again, this time for 30 days. Judge Sanderford found him $10 and costs yesterday for carrying an unloaded revolver. Stone, who was released Thursday, was caught by Sgt. Kravtsov trying to steal an automobile.

WOMAN SUES HER FATHER-IN-LAW; SEEKS $250,000

A quarter of a million dollars for the loss of her husband's love was asked by Mrs. Buelah Getschow, 1336 Arthur avenue, in an alienation of affections suit filed yesterday in the Superior court by Attorney Charles E. Erbstein against her father-in-law, George Getschow, president of Philip Getschow & Co., contractors, who lives at 4542 Beacon street.

Ten years ago, when Mrs. Getschow was a chorus girl, she danced at an entertainment given at the Illinois Athletic club and attracted the eye of Roy Getschow, treasurer of his father's company. They were married soon after, despite the elder Getschow's objections.

"My father-in-law wanted a wealthy wife for his son," declared the wife. "And he always objected to me. After ten years he's been successful. My husband left me two weeks ago and now refuses to support me and our three children."

TERRY DRUGGAN'S ARTISTIC NATURE WINS HIM RESPIRE

Terry Druggan, the beer king, was pictured yesterday as a lover of beautiful landscapes and architecture. Attorney David Stansbury told Federal Judge Fitzhugh that Terry's desire to restore his $450,000 estate in Florida to its appearance before the recent tornado had detained him.

Druggan, Grover Dillard, his chauffeur, and Joseph Delahanty, confessed go-between, were to have gone to trial in connection with an alleged plot to bribe a member of the jury which acquitted Peter Hoffman, Druggan, and others in the jail conspiracy trial. Judge Fitzhugh refused to forfeit Druggan's bond and set Feb. 21 as a new trial date.

Loss Is $200,000

Four Chicago fire companies were called early last evening to aid the Evanston department in fighting a $200,000 blaze in the E. R. McKinley building, a three story structure at 901-905 Chicago avenue. The fire was brought under control after a two hour fight.

Starting in the basement of the John Victor Lee drug store, the flames had gained considerable headway before firemen arrived. This concern's stock was a total loss. Physicians' and dentists' offices on the second floor were damaged, as were four flats on the third floor.

It was feared for a time that the fire would spread to a 23 flat building adjoining the store on the east. Residents moved their belongings to the street, but returned when the firemen conquered the blaze. The Lee drug store was recently raided by federal prohibition agents and a hearing on a permanent injunction against the place was set for Feb. 25.

Army Blimp TU-10 Flies by Night Over Chicago Homes

Residents in several sections of the city last night reported excitedly seeing the TU-10, a four-engine dirigible, which cruised for a time on a training flight from its hangar on the army field in Belleville, Ill., about midnight. It was flown for a time over the central portion of the city, and then turned its nose back southwestward. The TU-10 was due back on its field near the Mississippi shore at dawn.

Shoots Friend of Years and Kills Self in Golf Dispute

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 7.—(Special.)—Andrew Jankowski and Cornelius J. Callahan were fellow automobile dealers, friends and golf rivals, in their home city of Toledo, O. When Jankowski's physician recently ordered him into the open air of California for his health, Callahan packed up his golf clothes, filled his bag with clubs and accompanied him here.

Since their arrival they have been daily companions for eighteen or thirty-six holes. Victory swayed back and forth and the contests grew in intensity, but friendliness prevailed. They played eighteen holes this morning and Callahan cut Jankowski's lead in matches to one. They started again this afternoon. Mrs. Jankowski accompanied them.

Dispute Over the Score.

On the eighth green there was a dispute in regard to the score. Jankowski suddenly pushed close to his friend. He pressed a revolver against Callahan's head and fired, inflicting a wound which physicians tonight said would be fatal. He then shot himself, dying instantly.

Valparaiso, Ind., Feb. 7.—[Special.]—Indiana justice will try its luck tomorrow with Frank McErlane, or perhaps it's Frank McErlane who will try his luck with Indiana justice.

Whichever it is, McErlane, who worked his way up from being a petty thief to being a partner of Joe Salts in the Chicago booze and beer racket, and who achieved a reputation as a murderer of championship caliber, goes to trial this morning here on a murder charge.

Thad S. Fancher, an attorney of Crown Point, was killed in a roadhouse on May 10, 1924. And ever since Indiana authorities have been in a struggle—a three year struggle at times seeming hopeless—to bring McErlane face to face with a jury. The money and the power behind McErlane, as behind Salts, balked Indiana for two and one-half years. He had been in Chicago and was able to give Indiana the horse laugh and a sneer.

No Laughs for Him Now.

But tomorrow it will be different. He'll be a couple of weeks without a laugh, unless his defenders say something funny. Joe Salts was at the county jail here today to confer with his partner, perhaps to tell him he'll eventually have the last laugh on Indiana, for Salts has been seen in this section of Indiana frequently since he was freed on his latest murder charge. And in Chicago Salts and McErlane are said to have never had much difficulty in silencing state witnesses.

As a boy, McErlane had not been so efficient at shattering the state's case. He was sent to the house of correction twice for auto thefts and was twice pardoned. Then he became a bandit and was sent to Pontiac in 1914, was paroled in 1916, sentenced to Joliet for accessory to murder in 1916, out in 1917, escaped from the county jail with Lloyd Bopp and Earl Dear in

SENATE APPROVES G. E. Q. JOHNSON FOR U. S. ATTORNEYSHIP

Washington, D. C., Feb. 7.—[Special.]—The nomination of George E. Q. Johnson for United States district attorney at Chicago was confirmed today by the senate. Earlier in the day the nomination was approved by the senate judiciary committee. The nomination was sent to the senate by President Coolidge last week in accordance with the recommendation of Senator Davenport (Rep., Ill.).

1918, and was caught and sent to the penitentiary, where he stayed till 1920.

He "ganged up" with Salts—and murder was afoot. McErlane's and Salts' names were on many indictments, but never after 1920 did they head a jury's verdict of "guilty"—no, they knew their witnesses too well, and since Salts' last trial, in which two important witnesses disappeared, he has been active in raising funds for his partner's defense.

Judge Harry L. Crumpacker, who is to preside at the trial which is scheduled to begin tomorrow, said he had no intimation that any further delay will be asked.

McErlane has been in custody here and at Michigan City since last August. He has changed attorneys, now having Ira J. Holmes of Indianapolis, Joseph Conroy of Hammond, and John Crumpacker of Valparaiso as his counsel.

Was Given Change of Venue.

The trial was brought to this county—Porter—from Lake county on a change of venue. State's Attorney Oliver Starr and Special Prosecutors Ralph Smith of La Porte and James P. McNeef of Gary are the prosecutors.

After the murder of Fancher, John O'Reilly, Alex McCabe, Anna Fulkey, and others were jointly indicted with McErlane. O'Reilly was convicted and is now in prison at Michigan City. McCabe was convicted, obtained a new trial, and was acquitted. Miss Fulkey was released after being held one year.

When first arrested in Chicago on this charge in 1925 McErlane resisted extradition and was successful. Deputy Chief John Stager arrested McErlane on April 22, 1926; another extradition fight was made, and Judge John P. McGorty finally ruled that McErlane must be given into Indiana's jurisdiction.

NOVEL 'REVELRY' BARS JURORS AT DAUGHERTY TRIAL

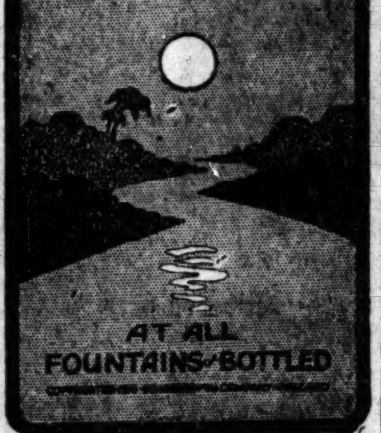

Conspiracy Hearing Begins in N. Y.

New York, Feb. 7.—[Special.]—

"Revelry," Samuel Hopkins Adams' novel of political life in Washington, which played a conspicuous part in the recent Fall-Doheny trial, was called "insidious fiction" today at the opening of the second trial of Harry M. Daugherty and Thomas W. Miller, charged with conspiracy.

The criticism was made by Harold H. Corbin, associate of Max D. Steuer, who is defending the former United States attorney general during the examination of veniemen before Federal Judge Knox.

Several veniemen who said they had read the novel, were excused by Judge Knox, and others were challenged by the defense, but the jury had been completed at adjournment hour this afternoon.

W. L. Carey, member of the stock brokerage firm of McKee & Carey and a prospective juror, brought up the subject when he volunteered the information that he had read "Revelry."

During the trial of Edward L. Doheny and former Secretary of the Interior Fall every prospective juror was asked if he had read the book, in which several characters were recognizable as persons high in the Harding administration.

"That book is just fiction," said Carey.

bin. "It's the sort of fiction I would call insidious."

This was followed by a discussion of "practical politicians" when Edward Regan, a theater manager, later examined for jury duty, said he had an aversion to them.

"I've seen them at their best and at their worst and I do not like them," he said. He was excused.

SHELTONS WITH WOMAN DEATH IN PRISON

Reopen Investigation Supposed

St. Petersburg, Fla., Feb. 7.—Police have reopened investigation of the death of Mrs. H. Holbrook, recently robbed.

Mrs. Holbrook was shot to death Jan. 25. A man who had died from a gunshot wound, self-administered, was found in the room where Mrs. Holbrook was killed. She also told detectives that she was being held in the room last autumn.

Four days prior to the shooting, a man accompanied by a woman, came to the home of Mrs. Holbrook to have her son, who was an old man, taken to the hospital. On the morning of the shooting, two strangers came to the home to tell her son the news.

On the same morning, Mrs. Holbrook was taken to a hospital, making a full recovery. She was returned to the home on the same day.

Inquest on Prior.

Nashville, Ill., Feb. 7.—Prior, state highway patrolman, who was shot by a bullet riddled body, was taken to the hospital and died last week.

Moore testified that he and Price were in Williamson county the road by Carl Shelt. Price and Shelton talked for minutes. He said the conversation was neverless seemed.

SMELTONS LINKED WITH WOMAN'S DEATH IN FLORIDA

Reopen Investigation of Supposed Suicide.

St. Petersburg, Fla., Feb. 7.—[Unit. News.]—Police have reopened the investigation of the death of Mrs. Helen B. Holbrook, 36, alleged former sweetheart of Carl Shelton, Marlon Peterson, recently convicted of mail robbery.

Mrs. Holbrook was found dead in her home Jan. 26. A coroner's jury said she had died from drinking chloroform, self-administered.

Anna Peterson, who came here with Mrs. Holbrook from Shawneetown, Ill., told detectives that Mrs. Holbrook admitted being afraid of a violent attack. She also told of Mrs. Holbrook's being very friendly with Carl Shelton last autumn.

Seen With Stranger.

Four days prior to her death a strange man accompanied her from Orlando to St. Petersburg. She is said to have told her son, Morton Compton, that he was an old Chicago friend. On the morning of her death she interviewed two strangers, and refused to tell her son the nature of the interview.

On the same morning Mrs. Holbrook sent her son downtown with a message that a banker, making an appointment to meet him in the afternoon. When the son returned he found his mother dead.

Inquest on Price's Death.

Nashville, Ill., Feb. 7.—[UP.]—Lory L. Price, state highway patrolman, whose body was found in a ditch near here Saturday, appeared tonight after a conversation with Carl Shelton, gang leader, three days after his death. Price and his wife were kidnapped from their home at Marion, Cor. of 10th and E. Moore testified today at the inquest.

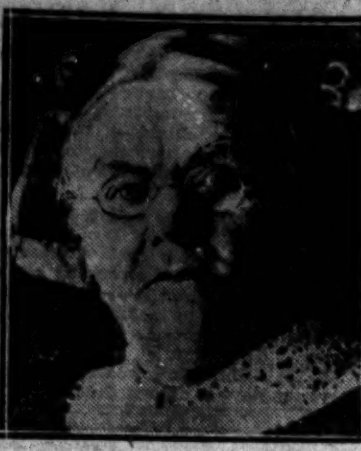

Corporal Moore, an army recruiting agent, testified that he saw Price's body given at the mail robbery trial of the three Shelton brothers at Quincy last week.

Moore testified the automobile in which he and Price were riding Jan. 14 in Williamson county was crowded out of the road by Carl Shelton, after which Price and Shelton talked privately several minutes. He said Price described the conversation as "friendly," but nevertheless seemed much perturbed. Volunteer searches continued today to look for Mrs. Price's body but without success. The inquest was adjourned until Saturday.

Prepare for Burial.

Marion, Ill., Feb. 7.—[Special.]—Under a uniformed armed guard furnished by members of the American Legion post of which State Highway Patrolman Lory Price was commander last year, his body lies in state in the First Baptist church. The body was brought to Marion from Nashville this morning.

DIES AT 101

MRS. NANCY BAKER.

Galea, Ill., Feb. 7.—[UP.]—Ginger-snaps helped to win the affection of a statesman for Mrs. Nancy Baker, who died here yesterday, aged 101. They also made her famous for great men, including three Presidents of the United States, had partaken of her baking products.

Gen. U. S. Grant, the late President McKinley and Roosevelt, knew Mrs. Baker and her ginger-snaps, and held her in affectionate regard.

In 1892 William McKinley, who was elected President in 1896, visited her at her home here and ate of the famous ginger-snaps. Col. Roosevelt followed in his footsteps in 1900. Her acquaintance with the three Presidents were among her cherished memories.

Here in Grant's old home town Mrs. Baker had lived since 1852. She was born on Nov. 15, 1826, and was married on Christmas day in 1852 to the late J. G. Baker. Last November she celebrated her one hundred and first birthday. She was a Bible student, and was well preserved in both body and mind.

TROOPER JOINS BANDITS; BALKS BANK ROBBERY

Clarion, Pa., Feb. 7.—[UP.]—A Pennsylvania state trooper who joined a band of Newcastles bandits in an effort to solve a $10,000 diamond robbery today succeeded in bringing about the arrest of two members of the gang after they had obtained $5,000 from the Clarion County National bank at Knox, near here.

Five men were in jail tonight, including the two who staged the bank holdup and three suspects taken into custody at Newcastle. The money was recovered.

When a clerk opened the bank doors the robbers went to the home of the cashier nearby, covered him with pistols, forced him to march to the bank and hand over $5,000. Another bank employee, acting on request of officers, told the cashier not to resist.

The cashier and his co-workers were then marched toward the former's house by the bandits. As they neared the residence the state and county officers overtook them. The robbers surrendered without a fight and were removed to the Butler state police barracks for questioning.

TOWNSHIP ARMS TO PREVENT NEW CEMETERY SITES

Worth Now Has Nineteen,
"Which Is Enough."

Worth township, where the population of the dead outnumbers that of the living, has drawn the line against any more dead ones, and will enforce with arms, its officers announced yesterday, its decree against the establishment of any more cemeteries.

"We have nineteen burial grounds now," explained Charles J. Tietzel, chairman of the board of the township, which is located out in the southwest part of the county. "Soon even the dead won't have standing room. They'll be crowding us live ones out."

Patrol of Constables.

Fifteen farmers, deputized as special constables and given shotguns, are patrolling a tract recently bought by colored Chicagoans for a burial ground, and they profess determination to prevent any bodies being slipped in on the sly against the town board's order.

Altogether, it is essential, for the Illinois law holds, the officials point out, that once a body is laid within the land, that tract automatically becomes a cemetery, and no dirt of village or town, or of a tract, can make it otherwise without the consent of the owners of the property.

Special Constable J. M. Cleveland, found patrolling the roadway at the tract, which is at 177th street and 44th avenue, was a bit dubious about what he would do if a cortege drew nigh, but he had two things to try out, anyway.

Has Two Alternatives.

"I'll arrest the funeral party for parking on a highway," he said. "If they go into the lot I guess we'll just have to dig up the body."

The property, after several recent sales, has been acquired by the Burr Oak Cemetery association, with offices at 407 East 26th street. Its officials are colored. But Chairman Tietzel was emphatic in declaring the township was not prejudiced against any race or creed. On the contrary, he said, the nineteen cemeteries are of many creeds and one of them is the resting place of colored brethren.

The township officials concede their position legally is a bit weak, and they have circulated a petition among the land owners in the district about the cemetery which seeks to incorporate the territory as a village.

The settlement now is called Alsip, and the proposal is to make Alsip a full fledged village. Then the state law which forbids the establishment of cemeteries within a mile of any village will be invoked against the invasion of the dead. The problem of the officials in the meanwhile is to hold the fort against the invaders.

"Cemeteries yield us no taxes for our schools," pointed out Mr. Tietzel. "Of course, the dead don't go to school."

UPTOWN CHICAGO PROJECTS $150,000 CAMPAIGN OF ADS

Details of a formidable advertising campaign, to be backed by the expenditure of some $150,000, were announced yesterday by a special committee of the Central Uptown Business Men's association. It is the avowed purpose of the district's leading business group, through liberal use of newspaper advertising space and in other ways, to "put Uptown Chicago on the map and keep it there," in the words of R. Leroy Hussagh of the committee.

As a beginner in the publicity drive, which it is planned to continue intensely for at least three years, advertisements of Uptown firms appearing in the new "Metropolitan" section of Sunday's Chicago Tribune were laboriously clipped by young lady stenographers of the association yesterday, pasted upon a huge board, and prominently displayed in a show window at Broadway and Wilson avenues.

"We plan to place at least 40,000 lines of newspaper advertising the present year, of which this Tribune will get half," said Mr. Hussagh.

Among other members of the committee are Victor J. Curto, realtor; Edward L. Reed, who is chairman; E. C. Hart, Loren Miller, department store owner, and H. J. Schiller, florist. The advertising contracts are to be placed through the McJunkin agency.

CO-ED WHO TRIED TO ROB A BANK
IS HELD INSANE

Vermilion, S. D., Feb. 7.—[UP.]—Clay county authorities clashed late today over decision of the county insanity board that Miss Marian Meyers was insane when she tried to rob a bank here Saturday.

Before she may enter a hospital for insane, State's Attorney H. O. Perkins insisted that $1,500 bond must be furnished for her appearance in Circuit court in March to answer a third degree robbery charge.

In this decision he was supported by Sheriff James Partridge, who said he could not permit the girl's transfer to the state hospital at Yankton "for observation" until the bond had been posted for her release from jail.

Miss Meyers confessed she tried to rob the First National bank here to get $24 to pay tuition fees.

Guarantee of Completing Buildings Under Landis Award

By CITIZENS' COMMITTEE

BEFORE you employ a contractor to erect your building, you want to be assured that he is not going to fall down on your job. Landis Award contractors are prepared to guarantee completion. Their guarantee is based upon their ability, experience, facilities and financial responsibility, and is backed by the Constructors' Club and the Valparaiso Construction Company. All of these are backed by the Citizens' Committee to Enforce the Landis Award, which itself is composed of more than 150 responsible Chicago business men, and which is endorsed by the Chicago Association of Commerce. Landis Award contractors not only guarantee that your building will be completed, but that it will be completed on time, and that a good job will be done for you. Landis Award general contractors have not yet failed to complete a job they have undertaken. During the last five years there have been various attempts to prevent or delay completion of Landis Award jobs, but those attempts never got farther than the "bluff" stage. There was a lot of fearful "barking," but when the contractors stood their ground, in no instance was there a "bite."

Intimidating tactics were employed during the construction of the Fourteenth Church of Christ Scientist at Sunnyside avenue and Paulina street. There were a number of threats of strikes on this job. The contractor being a Landis Award contractor would not allow himself to be intimidated. In other words, he had backbone. The job was completed without strikes. There wasn't any sabotage on it. If there had been, the Citizens' Committee would have made good the damage, for it insures all Landis Award jobs against sabotage. The quality of workmanship was satisfactory in every respect to all concerned.

Even though Landis Award architects and contractors could not and did not guarantee completion, economy, quality and speed in building, all of which they do guarantee, they are entitled to your preference because of the successful efforts they have made to eliminate strikes, graft, restriction of men and materials, work-making rules and slugging. By doing this they have helped yourself and everybody else in our great city. If they hadn't done what they have conditions in the building trades today would be what they were, or worse, prior to five years ago as revealed by the DeMet's Committee. It is thinkable that the good people of this community would willingly or knowingly permit those conditions to return, and yet they will return with redoubled force, and this committee will be compelled to disband unless the community realizes the necessity of building under the Landis Award.

According to what people tell us, the five previous ads of this series covering a period of ten weeks, already have brought about a better public understanding and appreciation of the principles of the Landis Award; of the benefits the architects and contractors who are operating under it have rendered the community, and of the service this committee is performing.

In response to our invitations many prospective builders have requested us to send them lists of Landis Award architects and contractors, and they have co-operated further by awarding jobs to Landis Award contractors. If you expect to build, we urge you to make early arrangements to employ a Landis Award architect, and Landis Award contractors.

Landis Award contractors and sub-contractors, of whom there are about 170, are equipped and prepared to submit the lowest bids for all classes of construction.

Don't build without having an architect. In the long run, if not immediately, he will save you money and increase your satisfaction, especially if he is a Landis Award architect.

By the way, what is the condition of your roof? This is the time of the year to secure estimates for replacing it.

We shall be pleased to send you a list of reliable architects, roofers, general contractors and sub-contractors. They are no farther from you than your telephone.

from LYON & HEALY

TO plan a trip without planning to have your own movies of it, is almost as bad as not planning on return transportation. The latter brings you home. The former brings your trip home with you—by re-enjoyment again and again.

Of all personal movie equipment, Filmo is most generally chosen by those who travel well. You will see the compact little camera—with its simple spy-glass "sighting"—in use scores of times, wherever you go: Cannes, Miami, Capri, the East, Biloxi, Algiers, Arizona, everywhere.

Twenty years' experience in making nearly all the professional movie cameras used, produced Filmo. It was specially designed by Bell & Howell to give amateurs full command of modern motion photography. And it was so well designed for this purpose that professionals choose and use it, too. It is more than a camera. It is everything you need to make real "movies" without having special photographic skill.

By all means find out how easily you may take the Bell & Howell Filmo along.

Attractive terms:
You can have Filmo Equipment on a basis that is convenient:
$10 monthly, or
Rental of $10 weekly—all rentals applied toward purchase should you decide to keep the equipment.
You can buy on open account, if desired.

2 DIE, 400 HURT AS JAPAN BURIES 123D EMPEROR

1,500,000 Throng Route of Royal Funeral.

(Copyright, 1927, by The New York Times.)
TOKYO, Feb. 8. — (Tuesday). — Emperor Yoshihito, who had led his people along a course ever widening in material progress, last night was ushered into the historic fold of "the line, unbroken for ages eternal," with rites which come down unchanged from the dawn of Japan's history.

In contrast to the modern city it traversed, the imperial funeral procession took its way with measured pace along a route lighted by old style lanterns and huge flares, like an old color print come to life. Except for the uniforms of the military and naval detachments and the gilded modern habiliments of the procession, the scene was in old style costumes of somber colors.

Hearse Like Ancient Vehicle.
Even the emperor's body was carried on Japan's most ancient vehicle, a two wheeled cart drawn by four black and white oxen.

On a distinctly modern touch in the procession was the music played by the navy and army bands for the first time on such an occasion. Shinto music predominated, however, the musicians in the center of the procession filling the air with the plaintive notes of reed instruments and the rolling of mellow drums, with which were mingled the doleful creak of the funeral cart's ungreased wheels.

The procession left the imperial palace, where the body had been lying in state, promptly at 6 o'clock as twilight gathered, and until the coffin had been laid within the huge concrete tomb, sunk deep into the hillside of Asakawa, as the first rays of dawn lighted Mount Fuji's tip, the arrangements moved as smoothly as only they could in a land where the remission of any slight task probably would mean the disgrace and hair-shirt of the negligent.

1,500,000 See Funeral.

The four mile funeral route was lined at noon, many having held their places since the night before, while families bringing mats, food, and charcoal braziers and waiting twenty-four hours to pay their final respects to Yoshihito.

It is estimated that 1,500,000 witnessed the procession and that another 500,000 were turned away fifty to a hundred yards from the route, alone which humanity was solidly packed. The route was closed at 3 o'clock, but only the herculean efforts of thousands of extra police were able to establish order by the time the procession started. At least two persons were killed and about 400 injured by crushes in the sobbing throng.

The funeral services were held in a specially constructed pavilion in the Shinjuku gardens. Ten thousand peo-

U. S. GRILLS EXPERTS IN HEARING OF FORD STOCK SALE TAX CASE

Washington, D. C., Feb. 7. — (Special.) — David H. Blair, commissioner of internal revenue, and his first assistant, Charles R. Nash, who have been subpoenaed by counsel for the nine appellants fighting the $31,000,000 extra income tax assessment levied against the former minority stockholders of the Ford Motor company, will take the stand Wednesday. They had been expected to testify tomorrow.

Prolonged and searching examination of expert witnesses by Alexander W. Gregg, youthful general counsel for the internal revenue bureau, at today's hearing before the board of tax appeals, was responsible for the postponement.

Paul Clay, vice president of Moody's Investors' Service of New York, one of the expert witnesses for the appellants, spent virtually the entire day defending his previous testimony that the Ford stock was worth $10,000 in 1918. The government contends that the stock had a valuation of only $15,000 in 1913 and on that basis is asking the additional tax assessment of $31,000,000.

While wearing evening clothes stood with out hats or overcoats in the bitter cold for fifty minutes while the emperor, the empress dowager, the princes and princesses of imperial blood, diplomats, and officials advanced to the bar and paid their final respects.

After the ceremony the coffin was placed in a palanquin and carried to a special railway station nearby and placed aboard a train for Asakawa. From the train to the tomb the coffin was borne in another palanquin by 114 "vase boys," young men of the village of Yase, near Kyoto, whose fathers and grandfathers had similarly functioned at former imperial funerals.

Another short service was held in the temporary shrine at the foot of the hill in which the tomb was excavated; and then, in the first faint gray light of dawn, the coffin was carried up the hill on an inclined railway and entombed with stone slabs inscribed with the name of the emperor and the dates of his birth and death.

The whole day was marked by the absolute quiet which prevailed among the great throngs that beheld the last journey of Yoshihito, one hundred and twenty-third emperor of Japan.

Asks Limit on Witnesses at Hanging Next Friday

Protesting that the last hanging in Chicago was made a public spectacle because there were 300 spectators, Attorney William E. Furlong yesterday asked Sheriff Graydon to limit the number of witnesses at the hanging next Friday of Sam Washington, colored, who was convicted of killing Minnie Moore.

Sheriff Graydon said he would comply with the law, which limits attendance to judges, prosecuting attorneys, court clerks, two physicians, three ministers, prison officials, and twelve reputable citizens.

JOYCE HAWLEY FLUTTERS ABOUT TO AID CARROLL

Her Effort Said to Be Coolly Received.

Joyce Hawley, the bathtub girl, was reported last night to have under consideration a plan for helping Earl Carroll.

It was Joyce's testimony about the wine bath she took on the stage of Carroll's New York theater during the bacchanal of Feb. 23, last year, that put him under a sentence of a year and a day in the federal prison at Atlanta, for perjury.

Now Joyce is reported ready to do "anything possible" to help Carroll from serving that sentence.

Approaches Attorney Here.
As a tentative move toward changing the attitude of the federal court she approached Attorney Charles E. Erbstein, through an intermediary, Mr. Erbstein is said to have decided he will not accept the brief.

Just what Joyce wanted to do seemed largely a matter of conjecture.

Some said that she couldn't very well make a statement that she had some clothes on when she slipped down into the champagne bath—for that would be confessing she had told an untruth—to say the least—at Carroll's trial. Others suggested that she couldn't very well say she wasn't altogether undressed; either—for that might be the same.

Carroll Not Bothered.

"She tried to see me, but I won't see her," said Carroll, in New York.

He was told that Joyce intimated she would go so far as to do what she could to help him get a presidential pardon.

"I won't have anything to do with it," Carroll responded.

And Attorney Erbstein: "Well, I was approached indirectly. No, I don't want to see Miss Hawley in my office. If she wants to make a statement I'll be glad to listen to it, provided she makes it before a United States commissioner under oath. I haven't seen the girl."

There was another who hadn't seen the girl. That was her mother, Mrs. Anton Daugelas of 4415 South Richmond street. Joyce was born Theresa Daugelas.

"She hasn't been home for four weeks or more," her mother said. "I don't know where Theresa is."

Joyce has been around Chicago for some months. At first she had several jobs singing and dancing in the cabarets and night clubs. Of late she has been seen to have run out and she has just been a pretty butterfly.

CHAPLIN BEGINS RETALIATION IN DIVORCE ACTION

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 7. — (Special.) — Lita Grey Chaplin's divorce complaint against Charlie Chaplin was trimmed in a number of places by Judge Reuben Schmidt of the Los Angeles county superior court today. The judge sustained demurrers of Chaplin's attorneys.

The result of the action will eliminate those portions of Mrs. Chaplin's divorce plea which seek to estimate the amount and whereabouts of her husband's cash and property holdings and which seek to include the Chaplin studio, a corporation, along with the actor as defendant.

Judge Schmidt allowed Lita's attorneys, ten days to amend the petition.

INDIANA SENATE VOTES TO QUIT LAKE LEVEL SUIT

Records State as Favoring Gulf Waterway.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 7.—[Special.]—The committee minority report favoring adoption of the resolution regarding the state of Indiana as favoring the Lake to Gulf waterway, and instructing the Indiana attorney general to withdraw from the suit brought by certain lake states against the Chicago Drainage district was adopted by the senate today. The vote was 27 to 14.

The resolution now goes to second reading. Its final adoption is practically assured. Today's action is considered a big victory for the Calumet region and waterway advocates. Senator William F. Hodges (Rep., Lake), is the author of the concurrent senate resolution, which, opponents said, would have the effect of repudiating the policies of the attorney general and the governors of the last two administrations. He asserted, in support of the minority report, that one of the greatest obstacles the Calumet Waterway association has encountered has been the attitude of Attorney General Arthur L. Gilliom.

Quoted Gilliom's Brief. "We found," Senator Hodges said, "when we went before the committees of the congress to ask our representatives and senators for support of the appropriation measure for the development of the gulf waterway that they believed Indiana was opposed to the project. And why? Because the attorney general of Indiana has filed his brief in the Wisconsin vs. the State of Indiana case now pending before the United States supreme court, in which he says that he is opposed to it."

"We might as well tell the attorney general now to get out of this case, because we are going to continue this fight, and accomplish the project in spite of opposition offered by some state officials."

Completion of the lake-to-gulf waterway, Hodges asserted, would increase the price of wheat and grain for Indiana and central western farmers from eight to thirteen cents a bushel. Senator Bruce E. Cooper offered a motion that the measure be considered later by the senate as a committee of the whole at a time when the attorney general could appear. The motion was voted down overwhelmingly.

Methods of enforcing prohibition were discussed yesterday behind closed doors at prohibition headquarters by assistant prohibition administrators in the central enforcement zone, extending from Pittsburgh to Sioux City. The meeting was addressed by Maurice Campbell, zone administrator, and E. C. Yellowley, Chicago administrator. Liquor permits of the following physicians and druggists were revoked in the last week, Mr. Yellowley announced: Dr. A. Rutter, 1125 Lawrence avenue; Masor Drug company, 3634 Lawrence avenue; Delmar Fidler, 6800 South Halsted street; Edwin S. Myerson, 2147 Grace street; St. Lawrence pharmacy, 554 East 61st street.

COUNCILMAN PROTESTS AS DETROIT DRINKS GERM LADEN WATER

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 7.—[UP.]—Charging that the lives of hundreds of thousands of residents were endangered by drinking germ laden water during the slowdown of the city water works here Saturday for repairs, Councilman Philip A. Callahan said he would call the board of water commissioners before the council to explain their action, which he termed a "colossal blunder."

The water works was shut down Saturday, but was forced to reopen last night when both the temporary pumping and filtration plants failed to function properly. During the period of the slowdown residents were placed on a water ration of ten percent of normal and the board of health issued orders that all water should be boiled before use.

Despite opposition offered by some state officials.

Would Raise Farm Prices. Completion of the lake-to-gulf waterway, Hodges asserted, would increase the price of wheat and grain for Indiana and central western farmers from eight to thirteen cents a bushel.

Senator Bruce E. Cooper offered a motion that the measure be considered later by the senate as a committee of the whole at a time when the attorney general could appear. The motion was voted down overwhelmingly.

STATE APPROVES SUBURBAN WATER SUPPLY PROJECT

Start $35,000,000 Lake Plant Within Year.

Plans of the Greater Chicago Lake Water company to supply water from Lake Michigan to towns within thirty-eight miles of Chicago's city limits have been approved by the Illinois commerce commission. Thomas J. Dolan, secretary-treasurer of the water supply company, announced last night.

Under plans towns as far as Chicago Heights, Joliet, Elgin, and Lake Forest will be supplied with filtered lake water. Work on the project, estimated to cost about $35,000,000, will be started within a year and will be completed in three or four years, it is said.

Alternative Plans Drafted. Two plans for taking the water from the lake are under consideration. Mr. Dolan asserted last night.

One of these plans calls for the construction of a crib in the lake off 22d street. A tunnel would then be drilled through solid rock 160 feet below street level to Harlem avenue, where a large filtration plant with a pumping station would be built. From the pumping station the water would be distributed through large mains.

The other plan under consideration calls for the building of a crib off Glenview and the drilling of a tunnel straight west for two or three miles to a filtration plant and pumping station.

Mr. Dolan said the cost of water on completion of the project will range from 7 cents to 12 cents per 100 gallons, the rate to be determined largely by the distance from the pumping station to the user.

Extensive Hearings Held. Application of the Greater Chicago Lake Water company for a certificate of convenience and necessity was made before the commerce commission in July, 1926. Hearings have been held for 17 or 18 months, during which reams of testimony of engineers and franchises were submitted to show that the plans of the water company were feasible.

Financing of the $35,000,000 project has been underwritten by Putnam & Stone, Inc., Stone & Webster, E. H. Rollins & Son and Brown Bros.

R. J. Nash is the president of the water supply company; A. J. Forchheimer, vice president; E. M. Savage, chief engineer; Walter M. Smith, consulting engineer; Mortimer G. Barnes, consulting engineer.

Thousands to Be Employed. "This project will give employment to several thousand men," said Mr. Dolan.

"The suburban communities are growing rapidly with improved transportation, facilities and good roads," he pointed out.

"These advantages have been offset, however, by the lack of good lake water. In view of the great period of thriving industry which promises to take place in the United States in the next ten years, the Chicago district, by reason of its location and natural advantages, must reap the greatest benefit."

"The demand for suburban homes and the industrial properties required for expansion are well known."

"Eminent men, who are students of the possibilities and probable growth of Chicago and surrounding communities. A population of 10,000,000 is often mentioned for the near future in the Chicago district."

Mr. Dolan said the use of Lake Michigan water will effect a considerable saving to the consumers, improve health conditions and lower fire insurance rates.

ROCKFORD MAN AND WIFE SICK IN AFRICAN WILD

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, Feb. 7.—Mr. and Mrs. Martin E. Johnson, Illinois explorers, who had arranged to film the snow covered Mount Kenya, abandoned the expedition after the start made early in January, when they arrived at a rest house 10,000 feet up. This is the first stage of the climb. Both contracted influenza, which necessitated their return down the mountain on foot. Both became so ill that they were admitted to the mission hospital, where Mr. Johnson slowly recovered. However, Mrs. Johnson developed pneumonia, and her condition is critical. Another doctor and two nurses are being rushed from Nairobi, 160 miles away, by motor car to the hospital. According to the last reports, Mrs. Johnson still is in a critical condition.

Mr. Johnson, who was born at Rockford, Ill., married Osa Helen Leighty in Chicago, Kan., in 1910.

New York, Feb. 7.—[Special.]—Because of high seas and heavy gales last Friday and Saturday, only one trans-Atlantic liner arrived here today. It was the Empress of France.

Ten liners were reported from one to five days behind schedule. They were the President Harding, Olympic, Minnetonka, American Farmer, Cedric, Tuscania, Cameronia, Aurania, Hamburg and the Bremen.

ALL BOOZE BAD, SOME WORSE, IS APPEAL DECISION

Liquor unfit for human consumption is a poor excuse for violation of the Illinois prohibition act, the Appellate court ruled in a decision handed down yesterday.

The court affirmed the decision of the municipal court, fining Dan Gentile, Michael Boengomane, and Dan Petrisso, each $300 and costs on charges of possessing liquor. The defendants in their appeal sought to show that the prosecution had failed to prove that the alcohol was fit for beverage purposes.

"The whole theory of the act in question is that no intoxicating liquor is fit for beverage purposes," the court ruled.

RUNAWAY SCHOOL GIRLS ARRESTED IN MILWAUKEE

Catherine Johnson, 14 years old, 5306 Montrose avenue, and Mary Ryan, 15 years old, 5147 Montrose avenue, both attending a neighborhood parochial school, started out to make their own way yesterday morning. They left school and went to Milwaukee "to get a job." Milwaukee had no job for them and they were arrested early this morning at Third and Wells streets in that city just as two well known police characters were trying to induce them to go to a flat. They were still carrying their school books.

6. Re-establish Constitutional Representation.

THE NAVAL RACE GOES ON.

In 1925 a conference for the limitation of naval armament was held at Washington. The initiative was President Harding's. The participants were the great naval powers, excepting Germany, which the war had removed for the moment from that category. There were the United States, Great Britain, Japan, France, and Italy. The object of Mr. Harding was to prevent a race in naval building and to create an equilibrium in naval force which would make for peace.

Needless to say, these purposes had the ardent support of the American people. We were within a few strides of naval supremacy, but we realized the peculiar or special needs of the British empire with respect to naval power and we had no desire either to give her cause for alarm by outstripping her naval forces or to force her to expend upon naval expansion to meet us resources much depleted by the war and much needed for reconstruction. Neither the government nor the people of the United States considered war against the British people as a contingency which would justify either people in expending vast sums in competitive armament. We have lived in peace with Great Britain for over a century, and hope never to have to fight with her. We have wealth and industrial equipment enough to outstrip her armament, but we had and have no wish to do so. On the contrary, we wished to relieve her of the burden of building against us as well as save our own dollars by avoiding a rivalry which, in our view, would be not only unnecessary but provocative. Neither had we any wish to give cause for anxiety to Japan, to France, or to Italy.

In this spirit and with these sincere and pacific objects in view we entered the conference. We do not intend to review the proceedings or generally assay the results. Something for economy and for peace was accomplished. But there were some serious disappointments. The United States made the chief sacrifices. It gave up the naval primacy within its immediate reach. It pledged itself not to take advantage of its opportunities for strategic dispositions in the western Pacific which might be cause of anxiety to Japan. It entered, of course, into a treaty for peaceful settlement of differences in Pacific relations. And it sought to achieve its object of stabilization of naval relations by urging that an agreement be made to cover all branches of naval building.

This latter proposal was not acceptable to other members of the conference, and the objection is illuminated by subsequent events. The readers of yesterday's Tribune were given a remarkable outline of naval activity abroad since the Washington conference in a dispatch from London. The disposition of our government, both under Mr. Harding and Mr. Coolidge, to interpret the limitation fixed as to capital ships in the most liberal spirit and to take it as a voluntary check upon all competition has not been shared by the other members of the conference. On the contrary, as it has seemed to us, from such unofficial information as we could obtain, all the energy our government and people had hoped to limit has merely been turned into other fields of naval enterprise. Of course, this defeats the main American object, which was to save what we consider a wasteful expenditure and to relieve the strain of war fear among the great powers.

It is not surprising, therefore, that we might have gone into dreadnoughts should now go into heavier cruisers, bigger destroyers, and bombardment submarines. On the contrary, if our purpose was—and it was—to establish as far as possible by voluntary agreement a greater stability of relations by a fixing of the naval status quo, that purpose has been hindered, not helped. The other powers have been hard at it ever since trying to obtain new advantages, and it is probable that the very limitation which the two greatest powers, Great Britain and the United States, imposed upon the development of their dreadnought fleets stimulated other governments by encouraging hopes of diminishing our lead in the branches not listed.

However that may be, we hope both congress and the executive will face conditions as they are and not be tempted to found a defense policy on hypotheses and hopes that are not validated by actualities. Mr. Coolidge is reported to have hopes of another conference which may accomplish what the first has signally failed to effect. We submit that such a conference would be a futility and worse than a futility unless the United States makes it clear that it proposes to shape its naval program according to facts and not according to hopes. We have already demonstrated our willingness voluntarily and honestly to place limits upon our vast potential force. Although the air has been full of abuse leveled at our head, we have given the greatest earnest of pacific purposes in the history of diplomacy. We have fulfilled not only the letter of the limitation treaty but carried fulfillment far beyond its terms. Yet we are being outstripped in naval enterprise, and in THE TRIBUNE'S opinion the situation is conducive neither to our own peace nor that of the world.

ROADS IN THE NATIONAL PARKS.

The department of the interior has just published the information that 141,648 persons in 44,473 automobiles toured Yellowstone park last summer. That, of course, takes no account of the added thousands who went through the park in buses, afoot, or on horseback. The tourists came from every state and from almost every foreign country. Each year sees the amount of traffic over the park roads increasing.

The national parks began as the playground of the wealthy. It took a good deal of money to get to them and the trip through the parks was no mean expense in itself. In recent years the situation has changed greatly. The interior department reports that of the private cars which went through the park 6,346 belonged to farmers. Nearly 2,500 of the automobiles belonged to salesmen. Teachers owned 1,800 of them; mechanics, 1,450; laborers, about as many; 1,350 belonged to students. The money appropriated by the government for the parks is not spent for the benefit of the rich. It is shared by all classes.

Considering the fact that most of the roads in the park were built with no thought of motor traffic and no conception of the amount of traffic which some day would flow over them, the state in which they are maintained is highly creditable, a proof of the ability of the engineers and of the park administration generally. The roads are not built of concrete; they lead through rough, mountainous country, subject to snow and land slides and torrential rains; at the height of the season, traffic over them is comparable to the traffic on a city boulevard. Much of the machinery for road maintenance is out of date. What is true of Yellowstone is true, in varying degree, of all the national parks. That being so, we believe that the federal government will be making no mistake in appropriating more liberally for road maintenance throughout the national park system.

THE FARM RELIEF ISSUE.

Farm legislation now has the right of way in both houses of congress. As in the last two sessions, the measure which has the strongest support from the farmers themselves is the surplus control or McNary-Haugen bill. It has been changed in the light of criticism and is conceded a better than average chance of passage. Some observers believe that modifications in the bill will lead the President to sign it, although a year ago last fall he announced his opposition to the bill as it was then drafted.

The McNary-Haugen bill has the support of the Farm Bureau federation, which is probably the most influential organization of farmers in the country and certainly the most influential in the corn belt. It has the approval, in principle, of a considerable body of conservative economists. Few deny that the farmers of this country, broadly speaking, are underpaid, and no one denies that it would be expedient, politically, for the Republican party to recognize its obligation to the farmers of the country and to the corn belt in particular, for the corn belt has been a Republican stronghold since the party was organized.

We believe it is significant that the opponents of the McNary-Haugen bill make their attack around the propositions that the proposal is unconstitutional and will not work. We can see no reason why the constitutionality of the bill cannot be left safely to the Supreme court. The charge that the bill will not do what it is intended to do is more serious, but it should be remembered that this charge has been leveled against half the legislation, good and bad alike, that is now on the books. The opponents of the bill do not say it will ruin the country or undermine its prosperity. The measure is frankly experimental, as the federal reserve act was experimental in its day. If the McNary-Haugen bill does not work out well, it can be modified or discarded. The risk is worth taking in the light of the probable benefits.

POINT DE SAIBLE.

New parks, new boulevards, new drives, and new bridges give opportunity from time to time to do honor to a person of distinction, a citizen or otherwise, dead or alive. Frequently there is some controversy about it, and there is likely to be if an old name is dropped for a new one. Some of us have the idea that root growth is a good thing even if modern life tends to change rather than fixate. It is of value that some of the roads traveled by old roads.

People keep the past alive because it is a part of themselves. They are in the continuity. Part of them comes out of the past and part of them goes into the future. They cherish associations, celebrate anniversaries, preserve memorials, and respect names marked by distinguished service.

There is a good deal of activity in memorializing the past, with groups and organizations interested in their particular causes. What we're getting around to by going around the block is this: The Indians about Chicago at the time of settlement said that the "first white man who settled in Chicago was a Negro." He was Jean Baptiste Point de Saible, a native of San Domingo who had found his way up into the country of the Peorias and then to the Chicago river. He built a cabin on the north bank of the river along about 1778 and lived there seventeen years.

Col. Arant Schuyler de Poyter, the British commander at Mackinac, knew that the Negro had settled at "Eschecagou" and thought he was there in the French interest. He was described by the British officer as handsome and well educated. He was taken in custody for a while by a British lieutenant, who said he behaved himself very well. A visitor at his cabin said he was a large man, a "trader, pretty wealthy, and drank freely."

That latter habit might interfere now with any memorial boulevard for him, but many of the men who penetrated the American wilderness drank freely when they could. Possibly the Negro's times might plead for him even in these days. Even our Puritan forefathers did not think that the use of rum was inconsistent with the good life although they set their faces against smoking.

Jean Baptiste on the bank of the Chicago river had only the Pottawatomies for neighbors. Finally, he seems to have preferred to live among the Peorias and went back to them. Another San Domingo Negro, Glamorgan, lived with them. Jean Baptiste died in Glamorgan's cabin.

Nothing much has been done in his memory hereabouts. It might occur to the Second ward that something should be.

Editorial of the Day

BUFFALOES FOR PENNSYLVANIA.
(Pittsburgh Post.)

The Ligonier Valley Sportsmen's association is engaging in an interesting experiment in arranging to release a pair of buffaloes on Laurel Hill mountain. In colonial times Pennsylvania abounded in buffaloes, although little mention is made of them in the earliest records of the colony because their range did not extend east of the Susquehanna river. Western Pennsylvania supported large herds, but they were slaughtered in a wholesale manner.

Though the animals thrived here up until something more than a century ago, it is questionable if it would be possible to maintain them in a wild state under present conditions. And even if it should be possible, it might not be desirable.

WORLD BECOMING MORE HUMANE TO MORONS.

WE HAVE reason to hope the world is gradually becoming more humane in its attitude toward idiots, imbeciles, and morons. There was a time when they were supposed to be incarnations of the evil spirits. They were treated accordingly. Murder, beatings, and other punishments were their lot. In time we became too intelligent for that.

Then we called them freaks, put them in museums and side shows, and gaped and laughed at them. In time we became too intelligent for that.

In the next stage we did not do much more than neglect them, but the small boy had his day in that he teased and persecuted the town nitwit. Every town had its "Charlie" and its "Heck" and every boy of 12 or thereabouts had his Roman holiday in making a show of them.

A few years ago Briggs adopted the small town boy and the nitwit as a basic subject for a series of cartoons. He called them "The Little Folks." It was a fine subject for a series of cartoons, since many humorous turns could be made of and everybody knew one or more town imbeciles in their neighborhood.

When the humanity of the theme was called to Briggs' attention he drew a cartoon in which he made amends, and then he dropped the subject.

We are becoming more intelligent and more humane in our treatment of idiots, imbeciles, and morons.

As a rule the moron is harmless, but there are a few exceptions. To the rule that idiots and imbeciles are harmless there are almost no exceptions. On the other hand, the moron is dangerous. He sometimes calls moral imbeciles are very harmful.

I have recently read "You Can't Win," by Black; "Daniel Drew," by White, and "The Great Game," by Westcott. The main theme of all three is the same: the story of a man who is a crook from the cradle to the grave. The man is a crook, and he is a crook from the cradle to the grave.

Report is made that during the recent snow several households opposite vacant lot again dumped ashes there when they can be full and our teams were unable to get in the alley. Ashes have been removed and notice served to refrain from dumping refuse of any kind in alley or on vacant lot. Owner should erect fence, and this would obviate the possibility of any further cause for complaint.

Superintendent of Streets.

OPEN TO TRAFFIC.
Chicago, Feb. 7.—(Tribune of the People.)—I would like to call your attention to the deplorable condition of the alley located between Halsted and Green streets from 78th to 79th street in the hope that you may be able to effect some remedy.

Although recently paved, this alley is almost impassable to vehicles, especially common people when Prince Henry visits Chicago. In Lincoln park on the afternoon of March 4 the Kaiser's brother will lay a wreath at the foot of the monument of the nation's great war President.

CHICAGO.—The twenty-second anniversary of the conversion of Harry Monroe, ex-convict and outlaw, was celebrated at the invocation of the Church of England in London. It is rumored that the Rev. Father Book which is to be presented to the church for its approval does not require the bride in future to say that she will obey her husband. Well, that's all right, but there's something sinister and ominous in the air. The bride won't have to promise to obey, but we'll bet a nickel the groom will. Men, the chains are tightening around us! 'Tis a woman's world!

Dick: Mary Ann, who always knows exactly what she wants, wants a deluxe autograph album signed by the artist Linebook for St. Valentine's, and I suspect there'll be coolness in the C—family if she doesn't get it. More than that, poor wretch, she smiles angelically at me, and says she wishes she could have it autographed by the King, too, which, unless you can help me out, leaves me in a pretty fix. How about it, old boy? Can do?

TO A LADY IN JADE.
The sheen of lush grasses awoke in the wind,
The hue of young leaves in the morning's soft dew,
The coolness of sedges where rivers slow wind
Are part of the glamour that's robed about you.
More soft than emeralds, like an olive's dull glow,
Or the sea in the dawn's first lustre arrayed,
Your beauty so clothed seems brighter to grow
Like a flame in a censer carved of jade.

LE MOUSQUETAIRE.
"VISIT IRELAND!" says National Commander High Power Savage in speaking of the convention of the American Legion in Paris next summer. High Power, now it's all over, we want to tell you something. We were one of the judges of the Legion essay contest, "Why I Wish to Go to Paris with the American Legion in 1927." Well, sir, we read over twelve hundred manuscripts and all the time we were ready and anxious to give the first prize of three hundred bucks to the bird who said, "I wish to go to Paris with the American Legion in 1927 so that I can stop off in Ireland, have a nice visit, and come straight back to the U. S. from there." But nobody did. And now it's too late. But somebody could have copied that prize mighty easy.

STOP! HANK, NEVER MIND WHERE HE'S FROM!
Sir: I am a Welshman and I cannot bear to see the name of that dear village in Wales in which I passed my youthful happy hours murdered by your typesetter. There is nothing difficult in the spelling of the word—it is spelled just as it is pronounced, Llanaelwyllynwgyllogerychwyndrob-wllandyllogogoch. Be more careful, please, in the future.

WASHINGTON.—Consul Frost at Queenstown cabled that the British passenger liner Calcutta was torpedoed without warning off the Irish coast, and that the one American said to have been aboard was saved. There were 200 persons on board. Two women and several children are missing.

WASHINGTON.—The torpedoing without warning of the California with one American aboard, the first instance of the destruction of a passenger ship since Germany issued her proclamation of ruthless submarine warfare, arouses great anxiety in official circles. Whether President Wilson will regard it as the "overt act" which would cause him to take further action against Germany remains to be seen.

COPENHAGEN.—Minister Egan received a dispatch from Ambassador Gerard stating that the German authorities will not permit Americans to leave Germany at present. Gerard, his staff, and all consuls will be detained until they can be sent on Bernstorff and crews of interned German ships in America has been decided.

REEL: Applying for a divorce in Chicago, the wife of Tober snerms says and deposes that when she gave Tober some beautiful neckties for Christmas, Tober hit her on the head, claiming that what he wanted and had expected was a smoking jacket. Isn't this to your knowledge, the first time on record that a man has openly acknowledged wanting a smoking jacket?

If you sat at our desk (in a wind swept corner of the great local room where broods a solemn, restless bunch of clerks of a boiler factory in full operation), on the days following a Linebook Nite, you would understand. You would read dozens of letters saying, "Why didn't you tell us? We didn't know! We didn't know!" All right, it's tomorrow night, Wednesday, Feb. 8, from 10:30 to 12 o'clock p. m. (and maybe a little mite more). And at that we bet we'll have 270 sad letters next Thursday saying, "Why didn't you tell us? We didn't know, we didn't know."

MEXICAN SIDELIGHT.
Chicago, Feb. 5.—Your editorials relative to Mexico and Nicaragua have been reasonable, logical, timely, and fitting. Some newspapers magnify the importance of rumors with enlarged headlines, which disturb the equilibrium of the public mind.

A friend who has lived in Mexico for twenty years, who understands and speaks Spanish, is superintendent of a producing mine in Chihuahua, and comes in contact with all classes of natives, in a recent letter writes as follows: "None of the Americans in this section has any fear of the Mexicans, or of the Mexican government confiscating any property, or attempting to take any action that would be illegal or unfair. The natives are friendly and show no disposition to start or encourage any disturbance with 'foreigners' living and working here. The consensus of opinion of the natives as expressed in their conversation indicates a desire to maintain a friendly attitude and to encourage cordial relations with the United States and with its citizens living and sojourning in this country."

CALIFORNIA AND MEXICAN LAW.
Houston, Tex., Feb. 4.—There are over three hundred men traveling in Mexico and South America for companies of the United States who have taken out English papers of citizenship. These men are native born Americans from the United States. Many of them work for companies in your city. I did not know the time would ever come when I would hesitate before I said I was an American citizen.

I want to ask you this—in view of your opinions regarding our policies south of the Rio Grande—what do you think of our laws regarding the Japanese in California? You know, of course, that no matter how long a Japanese had lived there he had to give up his land. The government did not compensate him for it in any way whatever. If a Japanese owned an oil well he was compelled to relinquish title to it. Can you give any reason why a law passed in the United States applying to a citizen of Japan is any more enforceable than a law passed by Mexico in regard to citizens of the United States in Mexico?

JAMES BRANDEN.
Delavan, Wis., Feb. 3.—This is to protest your handling of Mexico. By cartoon and by news, and by editorial, almost daily you are trying to goad sentiment, I can draw no other conclusion than that you men wish the United States to push a half million troops into Mexico and seal several hundred miles of her Rio Grande and Gulf territory.

I submit the following propositions as true, and pertinent, as to Mexico, and elsewhere:

1. Vital national interests and individual interests and of financial adventures are not identical, and may be far apart.

2. Any person contemplating investment outside the borders of his own land should inform himself thoroughly, not alone of the physical background of the land, but also of its cultural and legal structure.

3. No more sinister influence can be brought against a national government than that of organized foreign investors, to force the government to underwrite their personal risks.

4. It would seem that Tex. Texans are aware that within our own militia leaders an act was allowed to pass which obliterated the investments of foreign dictators, and stockholders. They have been no other demand than the price march against the Antislavery league. It is probable that Latin American control of Latin American resources will affect the prices of gasoline, rubber, and lumber, as Tex. Texans know. But who can observe without noting the current prices of rice, cotton, corn, and beef? Aux armes, comrades!

No, the altruist is not a visionary or a dreamer. About the worst that can be said of him is that he is the perverse faculty of imagining himself in the boots of a Chinaman, a Hun, or a Mexican and observing the situation from angles which he has never seen. His main fault is that of being logical, which is a grave psychological condition in the opinion of those who measure right and wrong by personal profit and loss

SENN STUDENTS RAZZ RUPPERT FOR GIN INQUIRY

Then Apologize and He Will Help Them.

Increased that the many students should be the target of inquiry because of the derelictions of a few, the pupils of Senn High school held a mass meeting yesterday. They hissed the instigator of the investigation of the rumors of gin drinking, petting, and smoking in the vicinity of the school. At the city council meeting tomorrow Ald. Funkhouser and Ponder will ask an inquiry into the surroundings of all high schools.

That there was some basis for the inquiry at Senn the students there recognized yesterday by recommending establishment of a four block no smoking area around the school. No mention was made of the charges that some nearby stores were used for gambling, drinking, and petting.

His Candidate for Alderman. When Matt Ruppert, candidate for alderman in the Fifth ward and leader of the investigation, appeared before the students and denied he had been seeking publicity by the expose he was hissed.

Richard Thornton, captain of the Senn football team, hinted the investigation had a political motive. Then Ruppert shouted:

"That is a lie. I did not do this for the publicity I would receive. I do not need the publicity. I am trying to help the school by cleaning up these conditions."

Ruppert was unable to speak further. Principal Benjamin Buck, when appealed to by Ruppert, told the students that Ruppert had offered to cooperate with him.

The students later apologized to Ruppert for hissing, and he promised to cooperate with them for the good name of the school.

Take Nonsmoking Pledge. The pledge to refrain from smoking came at the end of the meeting. Principal Buck put the question to the students:

"Will you take a hand in this matter yourselves and pledge to stop smoking in and about the campus?"

"We will," the students responded. A group of Senn students is expected to appear before the city council tomorrow to protest against such inquiries as that recently made.

CO-EDUCATION AT ILLINOIS PEEVES SULTAN OF SULU

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

JOLO, Island of Sulu, P. I., Feb. 7.—Princess Tarhata Kiram, former Illinois wife of the insurgent Moro chieftain, Datu Tahi, and niece of the sultan of Sulu, who was captured yesterday, after escaping with her husband from the besieged fort on the island, is being held incommunicado until Datu Tahi is captured.

The sultan of Sulu did not seem well pleased with the results of the education of Tarhata at Illinois. "I gave Tarhata a good education," he said to the Tribune correspondent, "but she is a child and behaves like a child."

While feeling the flight was a disgrace, the sultan excuses her by saying she was afraid when the guns boomed.

The sultan was interviewed in his temporary palace, a poor three room building, with the largest room containing an unmade bed, an American flashlight and a cheap looking glass.

The sultan continued, saying, "I do not think President Coolidge would approve of killing women and children, although it is difficult to see how to avoid it. The Jolo Moros surround themselves with their whole families before a battle, with the women fighting as wildly as the men. At the Bagak battle against Gen. Pershing, women with babies in arms stood over the cannon, thinking that the Americans would not shoot."

His Candidate for Alderman. When Matt Ruppert, candidate for alderman in the Fifth ward and leader of the investigation, appeared before the students and denied he had been seeking publicity by the expose he was hissed.

Richard Thornton, captain of the Senn football team, hinted the investigation had a political motive. Then Ruppert shouted:

"That is a lie. I did not do this for the publicity I would receive. I do not need the publicity. I am trying to help the school by cleaning up these conditions."

Ruppert was unable to speak further. Principal Benjamin Buck, when appealed to by Ruppert, told the students that Ruppert had offered to cooperate with him.

The students later apologized to Ruppert for hissing, and he promised to cooperate with them for the good name of the school.

Take Nonsmoking Pledge. The pledge to refrain from smoking came at the end of the meeting. Principal Buck put the question to the students:

"Will you take a hand in this matter yourselves and pledge to stop smoking in and about the campus?"

"We will," the students responded. A group of Senn students is expected to appear before the city council tomorrow to protest against such inquiries as that recently made.

Sale Prices Now on China Dinner Sets

This is the thirty-fifth annual Sale of Dinner Sets in which all of our most popular chinas, with the exception of Lenox and Wedgwood Queensware, are included. In services for twelve there are more than 150 patterns from which to make a choice. The wares represented are: French China, Rosenthal China, Field-Japan China, Bavarian China, English Semi-Porcelain and American Semi-Porcelain, and a great many famous English Bone Chinas. Most of the Sets are open stock patterns, making it possible to add to the Set and to replace broken pieces.

And Stemware Prices Are Much Lower

All of our great stock of Stemware is reduced for this February Sale. Imported and domestic sets and all open stock pieces are included; plain, etched, colored, rock crystal, Venetian, and gold decorated glassware; goblets, sherbets, cocktails, wines, cordials, finger bowls, salad plates and all sizes of tumblers.

Here are the smartest new patterns, the favored styles of the Continent, all at prices that are much lower than is usual. Here are pieces and sets ideal for gifts and prizes.

All Lamp and Candle Shades Reduced

Every Lamp and Candle Shade is reduced in this February Sale. And this is the only time during the year that you may profit by reductions made in our entire stock—not only are all regular Shades repriced, but substantial reductions also prevail on Shades made to your special order. You will find new models in imported Shades, as well as a wide variety of designs in those produced under the direction of our own studios. This is precisely the time to replace a worn or soiled Shade with a new one—the only time in the year when all Shades are reduced.

CHINA, STEMWARE, LAMP SHADES—SECOND FLOOR, WABASH

February, of all the winter months, is of greatest importance to economical housewives. It is a month of Sales in many of the Housefurnishing Sections; a month in which the thoughtful, thrifty buyer can save a considerable sum by purchasing judiciously. . . . We offer this suggestion for what it is worth, knowing it to be a plan followed by many of our customers: Spend a few hours this morning in going over your household needs for the next six months; make a list of the things you will have to buy; then come to the Store and take advantage of the February reductions. You will be able to save a surprisingly large sum by buying this month.

SPHINX COOLIDGE SPOILS DREAM OF FARM BILL BLOC

With Congress Apparently Won, Veto Danger Looms

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., Feb. 7.—(Special.)—With passage of the McNary-Haugen farm bill generally considered a certainty, the burning topic of farm debate and discussion everywhere is what President Coolidge will do with a measure he has condemned as economically unsound and a species of price fixing.

The debate on the bill in the senate today reached its high water mark in rival predictions of the reception the executive would accord the McNary-Haugen bill.

Senator Fess (Rep., O.) said: "I have talked with no one, but I am sure that when this provision is put in the bill, it will be retained."

In the last session Senator Fess led the administration forces which campaigned the defeat of the McNary-Haugen bill.

"The President will sign this bill and be glad to," countered Senator Goiding (Rep., Idaho), a supporter of the measure.

Reason in Last Session.

The bill was beaten in the last session in the senate by six votes. Senator Sheppard (Dem., Tex.), who voted against the bill then, spoke in favor of it today. Senator Robinson (Dem., Ark.), Democratic leader, indicated by his remarks that he would vote for the bill, and other converts include Senators Harris (Dem., Ga.) and George (Dem., Ga.). These and other switches from the negative to the affirmative side are relied upon to put the bill over in the senate this time. Its passage in the house seems assured.

Though the President, for more than a year, has stubbornly opposed the principle of the McNary-Haugen bill, his advisers have been unable to elicit from him in the last two months any indication of his intentions if the measure should reach him.

John W. O'Leary, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, headed a delegation from that organization which urged the President to prevent the McNary-Haugen bill.

GOV. ZIMMERMAN TO BE GUEST HERE AT WISCONSIN DINNER

Gov. Fred R. Zimmerman of Wisconsin will be the chief guest at a dinner to be given by the Wisconsin society of Chicago at the U. S. Club next Friday evening.

GOV. ZIMMERMAN.

The committee in charge of arrangements announced that the dinner would be dispensed with and that the evening would be devoted to entertainment.

The college element in the society, led by Harry Scott, will sing their characteristic songs, the Pullman quartet will perform, and a scenic movie of Wisconsin spots will be shown. Dancing will follow the entertainment.

bill from becoming law. Mr. Coolidge listened without giving the slightest clue to his intentions.

The debate in the senate descended at one time to the level of clothe-line dispute. Senators Fess and Goiding almost came to grips after using such phrases as "farmers robbed by the millers" and "wool growers ruined," while the other senators and the galleries were convulsed with laughter as Vice President Dawes strove in vain to moderate the din with his tiny gavel.

As Goiding had the louder voice, he got his remarks across to the shorthand reporters, while Fess stood with moving lips and waving arms, unable to register.

Senator Fess, calling the bill fundamentally the same as defeated last session, said it still contains an element of price fixing, for the board is either to fix the price or allow the miller or packer to fix it, the latter to be reimbursed for any loss out of the equalization fund.

SIMON O'DONNELL DIES; FORMERLY A UNION LEADER

BY THOMAS WREN.

Simon O'Donnell, for years Chicago labor leader, died early yesterday morning at the Grant Memorial hospital from an attack of acute indigestion.

A few years ago the same ailment caused the death of his erstwhile friend, Thomas Kearney, who succeeded O'Donnell as head of the Chicago Building Trades council in 1920. Simon was the son of a former chief of police, and he entered the Chicago labor movement in 1901 when he was elected business agent of the Journeymen Plumbers' union.

Kearney and James Garvin were arrested in 1920 from the trades union movement.

During the world war Simon brought all the building trades to the front in every drive for sale of Liberty bonds and for Red Cross funds. He succeeded in nipping several labor disputes which threatened the construction activities on army and naval camp buildings.

The late Samuel Gompers named O'Donnell as labor's representative in several matters under arbitration.

In 1925 Simon bore the brunt of an attack during the investigation of Senator Dally into the building situation in Chicago, which led finally to the Landis award. Charges were made against O'Donnell, but he was acquitted.

O'Donnell remarked to a friend after his acquittal that a fellow cannot expect to hop off a train going 60 miles an hour without catching a clinger in his hatband. After his retirement in 1920 from the trades union movement.

O'Donnell took up a residence at 1010 Michigan avenue, Evanston, which he purchased for a reported $100,000. At time of death he was president of the American Sewer and Drain Construction company.

Burial will be at Calvary cemetery following the celebration of high mass at St. Mary's church at 10 a. m.

O'Donnell was a representative in several matters under arbitration.

In 1925 Simon bore the brunt of an attack during the investigation of Senator Dally into the building situation in Chicago, which led finally to the Landis award. Charges were made against O'Donnell, but he was acquitted.

O'Donnell remarked to a friend after his acquittal that a fellow cannot expect to hop off a train going 60 miles an hour without catching a clinger in his hatband. After his retirement in 1920 from the trades union movement.

OBERTA SEEKS WRIT TO HALT POLICE ARRESTS

Cries "Persecution" by Collins' Deputies.

John Oberta, 24 year old candidate for alderman in the Thirtieth ward, friend of Polack Joe Salita, south side gang leader, faced Chief of Detective William Schoemaker and Deputy Chief John P. Stege in court yesterday and accused them of persecuting him. He asked Superior Judge Oscar Hebel to grant an injunction restraining the police from molesting him.

The scene was characteristic of the new order of things established last week by Salita, who started civil suit against Stege, asking $100,000 damages for libel. Oberta, called a hoodlum and gangster by police, was seeking protection through the courts. For a time at least, it was intended, and is going to substitute the writ for the gat in fighting the police.

Denies He's Hoodlum.

But Oberta denied he was a gangster. He pictured himself as just an ambitious young fellow, once a newsboy, who now thinks he can make a name in politics. But because of his acquaintance with some of our citizens who deal in beer, the police are arresting him on sight and spilling his campaign, he told the judge. "Oberta, well dressed, good looking, was on the witness stand for two hours. When he finished, Judge Hebel continued the hearing until today, when he will make a decision on the injunction plea."

Oberta admitted he had been indicted with Salita for the murder of "Mittie" Foley. But he had not been convicted, he pointed out, and he argued that his detention in that case was no excuse for the police arresting him several times a week.

Halted His Repeat.

"Every time I meet a cop, I get thrown in the can," the witness complained. "They call me a hoodlum and worse names than that. Once I was peacefully sitting in the People's restaurant, near 47th street and Madison avenue, when Paddy Doyle from Liebeck's squad came in and arrested me. He wouldn't even let me finish my bowl of soup."

Next day, Oberta said, he was arraigned in the South Clark street court and discharged. Police at that time admitted that there was no evidence against him, he said.

During his testimony, Schoemaker and Stege sat nearby, watching him. Assistant Corporation Counsel Frank McCarthy frequently consulted the two detective chiefs while cross-examining Oberta.

WOMAN IS FREED OF BABY CHARGE; NO ACCUSERS

Mrs. Helen Dugdale, 2804 South Western avenue, appeared in court yesterday to answer charges of having trafficked in new born babies, but no witnesses were present to make accusation. The case was then dismissed with leave to reinstate at the instance of Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, health commissioner. It was alleged at the time of the woman's arrest, that she collected fees as a midwife, both from unfortunate mothers who wished to get rid of their infants, and from wives who purchased babies to "fool their husbands."

BOMBED BY MACHINE GUN GANG. A gambling resort near Peoria was raided yesterday by a machine gun gang, who obtained cash and jewelry valued at nearly $50,000. Chicago gangsters are blamed.

WOMAN URGES CHURCH LOBBY AT SPRINGFIELD

A church lobby at Springfield in the interests of dry legislation and other reforms for which the church stands was advocated yesterday by Mrs. Lotie Holman O'Neill of Downers Grove, Ill., a representative in the state legislature from Du Page county.

Mrs. O'Neill addressed the Methodist ministers' meeting in the Chicago Temple. She said several wet bills had already been introduced and the wetters were claiming they had enough votes to win.

"No one knows what may happen if the politicians think the church people have gone to sleep on the job and are indifferent as to the outcome of dry legislation," Mrs. O'Neill said. "I assume that all you ministers and your church people are in favor of the dry program and other legislation which effects public morals and therefore, I believe the churches ought to get together and maintain a permanent legislative lobby to see to it that legislators act in the interests of the better element of society."

Evanstonian Finds Home

Ransacked, Wine Stolen

Eben E. Sherwood, a contractor, returned to his home at 2419 Cowper street, Evanston, Sunday and discovered that burglars had ransacked all the rooms. Only in the cellar did they do any damage, however. There they took three kegs of wine, sixty gallons in all. Mr. Sherwood saw a shadow in the alley and fired five times, but didn't hit anybody.

vious campaign by representative leaders of labor as their friend."

Another outbreak of the battle of the laundry bags gave the night's campaigning a full odor of soapuds. State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe put out a billet-doux addressed to the Brundage-Densen-Litsinger group.

"Mr. Brundage," read Crowe'smissive, "insists on appealing to what he terms the 'decent element' of the Republican party to rid itself of Galpin and Crowe and defeat Thompson for the nomination for mayor."

"Mr. Brundage, didn't you repeatedly at various times during the month of December, in my office and in the office of Charles V. Barrett, tell Homer Galpin and myself that as between Litsinger and Thompson there was no choice, that you could not stomach a man of Litsinger's character."

In presence of Snow.

"Did you not, in your office, Friday, Dec. 24, at 3 o'clock p. m., in the presence of Bernard W. Snow, ask William Hale Thompson to meet you and your ward leaders on the following Monday, Dec. 27, at 10 o'clock, in your office, so that you and they could pledge their support to Thompson in his canvass for mayor?"

"Didn't you, Monday, Dec. 27, at 10 o'clock, in the presence of Thomas O. Wallace, Samuel E. Erickson, Charles S. Peterson, Leonard Brundage, Francis L. Boutell, and Louis Nettelhorst, tell William Hale Thompson that you and these men would support him for mayor, and didn't each one of these men make the same pledge at the same time, and then did you not ask Thompson in return for that promised support to be with your brother Len for sheriff, and didn't Thompson tell you he didn't want your support at that price?"

A notice that both Litsinger and Thompson are to be principal speakers tonight at a nonpartisan meeting under the auspices of the Hyde Park branch of the Women's City club was sent out last night by Mrs. Ferdinand H. Parsons, chairman of the club. It is to be held at the Kenwood school hall, 50th street and Lake Park avenue.

A total of 38,785 names was knocked out of the registration books by Saturday night's revision, according to the election board's compilation yesterday. It leaves a total of 1,003,485 names on the list, the largest registry before a mayoralty primary in Chicago's history.

COLORADO SPRINGS

where health, sunshine and gorgeous scenery

await the health seeker and home seeker

COLORADO SPRINGS AND MANITOU, with its famous mineral springs, nestling at the foot of Pikes Peak, offer an ideal year-round climate to home seekers and health seekers alike. Here the winters are mild, summers cool, the air dry and clear, while there is an average of 310 days of healing sunshine annually.

Floods, cyclones and earthquakes are unknown in Colorado, and for beauty of scenery the region is unsurpassed anywhere.

As an ideal all-year residential city, Colorado Springs has attracted well-to-do people from all parts of the world—retired business or professional men and their families and others who wish to engage in part-time business or in ranching.

Here one may enjoy year-round golf, motoring, horseback riding, mountain hiking and fishing, also the advantages of the best of music, theatres, public and private schools, colleges, churches and modern shops.

For the treatment and cure of tuberculosis, throat and bronchial troubles, Colorado Springs is the ideal spot, not only as to climate and necessary sunshine, but also because of its sanatoria and medical equipment, and its physicians, skilled through long experience. Only those, however, should leave home who can live in moderate comfort and without financial worry.

ENGLISH BISHOPS DROP THUNDER IN NEW PRAYER BOOK

Release to Public Shows
Many Radical Changes.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
LONDON Feb. 7.—The reformation of the ritual and practice of the Church of England to make both consonant with modern thought was made known to the world this afternoon when the Archbishop of Canterbury and York gave 300 members of the national assembly of the Church of England the new revised prayer book which has taken twenty years to complete.

Both prelates announced the changes would leave the church doctrine unaffected and that the new book is purely optional.

List of Changes.

Among the striking changes proposed, which the church assembly must decide upon, are:

Recognition of the equality of sex through the elimination of the word "obey" in the marriage ceremony; reservation of the sacrament for the sick and "emergencies"; permission of prayers for the dead; the use of extemporaneous prayers; and the elimination of the statement in the Baptismal service that "man was conceived and born in sin."

New Book Has 373 Pages.

The new book, containing 373 pages, bound in a pale green, lay as a solemn object on a large table as the archbishops explained the necessity for its adoption. The old and new forms both are printed collaterally in the new volume.

It was a great moment in English religious history when that venerable figure, the Archbishop of Canterbury, who is 79 years of age, announced that the prayer book had not been revised in 255 years, but the need of doing so has been apparent.

The draft of the new measures, if approved by the convocations, will come before the international assembly for adoption in July.

New Burial for Children.

The ordering of the use of vestments in the communion services, among other important changes, is likely to cause a controversy. Prayers for the dead have been authorized for inclusion in the burial service, which was an innovation occasioned by the war. An entirely new burial service for children has been instituted, while new prayers based on modern things, such as the league of nations, have been introduced. Special prayers will be given for burial in un consecrated ground, while new words are added for the cremation ceremonies.

Bishops are prevented from forcing their ministers to adopt the new regulations, and, on the other hand, ministers cannot force their congregations to accept the changes.

Thunder Taken Out.

A ruthless pruning was done on all the old marriage service, and at the same time the prayers have been softened, with the old harsh condemnatory thundering taken out.

The bride may say "obey" if she likes, but she needs to say "Now I take thee for my wedded husband, to have and to hold from this day forward, for better or worse, richer or poorer, in sickness and health, to love and cherish, until death do us part."

The marriage ceremony no longer has the warning that it must not be entered into "to satisfy man's carnal lusts and appetites, like the brute beasts that have no understanding."

For "a remedy against sin," the new version runs, "It was ordained in order that natural instincts and affections implanted by God should be followed and directed aright."

Expect Bitter Controversy.

A bitter controversy is expected to range around the new rubrics permitting the reservation of the Eucharist and the wearing of vestments at Holy Communion. The new book is emphatic about the compulsory wearing of vestments. The Anglo-Catholics have always worn, despite the attacks, elaborate copes, while the Evangelicals condemn the practice as "popery," wearing a simple stole and demanding that the vestments be banned.

The new book lays down that consecrated bread and wine may be reserved not only for the sick, but also to "meet an emergency." This is in order that sick persons, at the last hour may not lack the benefit of the sacrament.

SWEDES PREPARE TO SHOW SHARE IN U. S. HISTORY

That this may be a sign among you, that when your children ask their fathers in time to come, saying, What mean ye by these stones?—JOSEPH, 17.

A national memorial, telling the story of the Swedes in America, their part in war and peace, in industry and art, particularly the deciding vote cast by one of their race which made the Declaration of Independence a living document, is the objective of the Swedish-American 300th anniversary campaign just started with Chicago as headquarters.

Organization meetings were held yesterday at the Morrison hotel and at the Swedish club, where teams were named for the Chicago quota of the $1,500,000 drive, which is to culminate between Feb. 11-21. Ministers, club workers, business men, artists and scholars are behind this movement, which is headed by Prof. Aman-

Johnson, former head of the history department of the University of Pennsylvania and now president of the American Sons and Daughters of Sweden.

Recall Forebears' Ideals.
"Let us not forget that we are Swedes," said the speakers of the day. And at the end of the meeting they sang "America." Back of the physical memorials, the stones of memory which one speaker found in the book of Joshua, is the Americanization idea, the hope of inculcating in the minds of the coming generations something of the heroic struggle and the high ideals of the Swedish founders of the republic, their warriors, inventors and teachers.

The idea for the memorial grew out of the John Morton building at the sesquicentennial at Philadelphia. John Morton, a grandson of Morton Mortenson, who came to the new world in 1634, cast the deciding vote in the convention which seceded from England and went into the war of the Revolution. The states were tied six to six when Morton rose from a sick bed and as a delegate from Pennsylvania cast his vote with Benjamin Franklin in favor of breaking away.

The Morton memorial, when completed, is to contain rooms dedicated to the names of great Swedes in America, John Hanson, John Dahlgren, John Ericsson, Jenny Lind, Frederika Bremer, the Swedenborg room, the Hesselius-Wertmuller room, the Tegner

Longfellow room, the Fenimore Cooper room and others.

Purpose of Meeting.
The purpose of the fund, as stated at the meeting are:

To complete the John Morton Memorial building, a national Swedish-American museum—$250,000.

To build a Morton Memorial chapel by 1927, the 150th anniversary of Morton's death, to hold his remains now buried in an obscure place—$40,000.

To preserve John Morton's birthplace now in poor condition—$4,000.

To erect a 40 acre permanent national park where the colonial Swedes first landed, with reproductions of Fort Christina, log cabins, etc. at New Sweden rock, Wilmington, Del.—$250,000.

The plan also is to tell the story of the achievements of their race in this country, through research work, publication of books and documents of historical value, an illustrated magazine, lectures on Swedish-American history at the universities. There also are plans to have a worthy national Swedish-American 300th anniversary celebration in 1923, for which $100,000 is to be raised, with a reproduction of the Kalmars Nyckel, which sailed across the Atlantic, escorted by Swedish and American warships.

An endowment fund of about $1,000,000 to maintain and carry out all the purposes was approved at the meeting.

Millions of Women are Asking

"How Can I Protect My Floor Coverings Against Wear?"

Wise women will answer—"Use Westfelt Rug and Carpet Preserver under them."

"Tramp, tramp, tramp," and scuff, scuff, scuff—surely play havoc with your rugs! Before it is too late, find out about Westfelt and give your rugs and carpets a new lease of life by placing this marvelously effective cushion under them!

Best of all, take the "ounce of prevention" and buy Westfelt in the first place, include it with your rug purchase. Low first cost, as well as final saving, proves Westfelt's true economy.

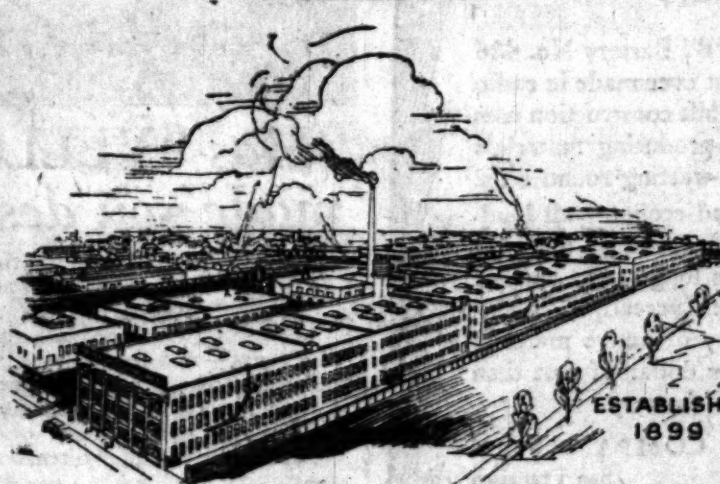

Westfelt is a vegetable moth-proof fiber, manufactured by a special process that keeps it from raveling or "shedding." It is no trouble to adjust; simply lay it under rug or carpet; it clings to the back without slipping and is as easy to move as the rug. In fact, it helps to keep the rug in place. Easy to clean with the broom or vacuum cleaner, too. No seams, no awkward bulk. Just a soft, spring-y cushion under foot, making your step more elastic and easy, without nerve strain. It is a great rest to your spine to tread on this velvety cushion.

And the way it adds to the looks of your rug will be a revelation! Your friends will admire its richness and depth. Its "feel" and deep pile—without knowing that safely stowed away underneath is the good fairy Westfelt, not only giving added wear, but making the most ordinary floor covering seem luxurious and richly soft.

Comes in rug sizes and rolls for carpets. Each rug is packed in individual, dust-proof wrapping. In roll or rug, Westfelt comes to you clean, safe and sanitary.

REFUSE TO SEND RADIO BILL BACK TO CONFERENCE

Foes Prevent Final Vote
in Senate, However.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., Feb. 7.—(Special.)—Opponents of the pending compromise radio bill failed today to force a vote on the measure to send it back to conference, but succeeded in preventing a final vote on the conference report.

Record votes on two motions by Senator Pittman (Dem., Nev.) for a new conference showed supporters of the measure to be in a majority. The first motion was rejected by a vote of 23 to 48, and the second by a vote of 22 to 43. Opponents, however, were not satisfied with this action and are expected to hold up final approval as long as possible.

Question of Vested Rights.

The chief controversy over the conference report centered on the question of vested rights. Senator Pittman and Senator Howell (Rep., Neb.) contended that the waiver clause in the compromise bill falls to meet the situation. Under the terms of the first Pittman motion the senate managers were instructed in a new conference with the house managers to obtain the insertion of a requirement that an applicant for a broadcasting license sign a waiver of "any right, as against the United States, to any wave length or to the use of the ether in radio transmission because of previous license to use the same or because of the use thereof."

The compromise bill before the senate requires an applicant for a license to sign a waiver merely "as against the regulatory power of the United States." This, according to Senators Pittman and Howell, falls to set up a declaration broad enough to make it certain that the government could order a broadcasting station to discontinue its use of the air without the latter claiming vested rights.

Would Set Time Limit.

The first Pittman motion also directed that the bill should be changed so that its provisions would be in effect only until Feb. 15, 1928, with all licenses and leases expiring at that time. His second motion did not attempt to deal with the vested rights situation but provided that the bill should remain in effect until the last day of next winter's session of congress.

After the defeat of the second motion Senator Dill (Dem., Wash.), who is in charge of the bill, proposed a unanimous consent agreement for a vote on the conference report at 2 o'clock tomorrow, but Senator Howell objected.

CHARLES DEERING BODY TO START FOR NORTH TODAY

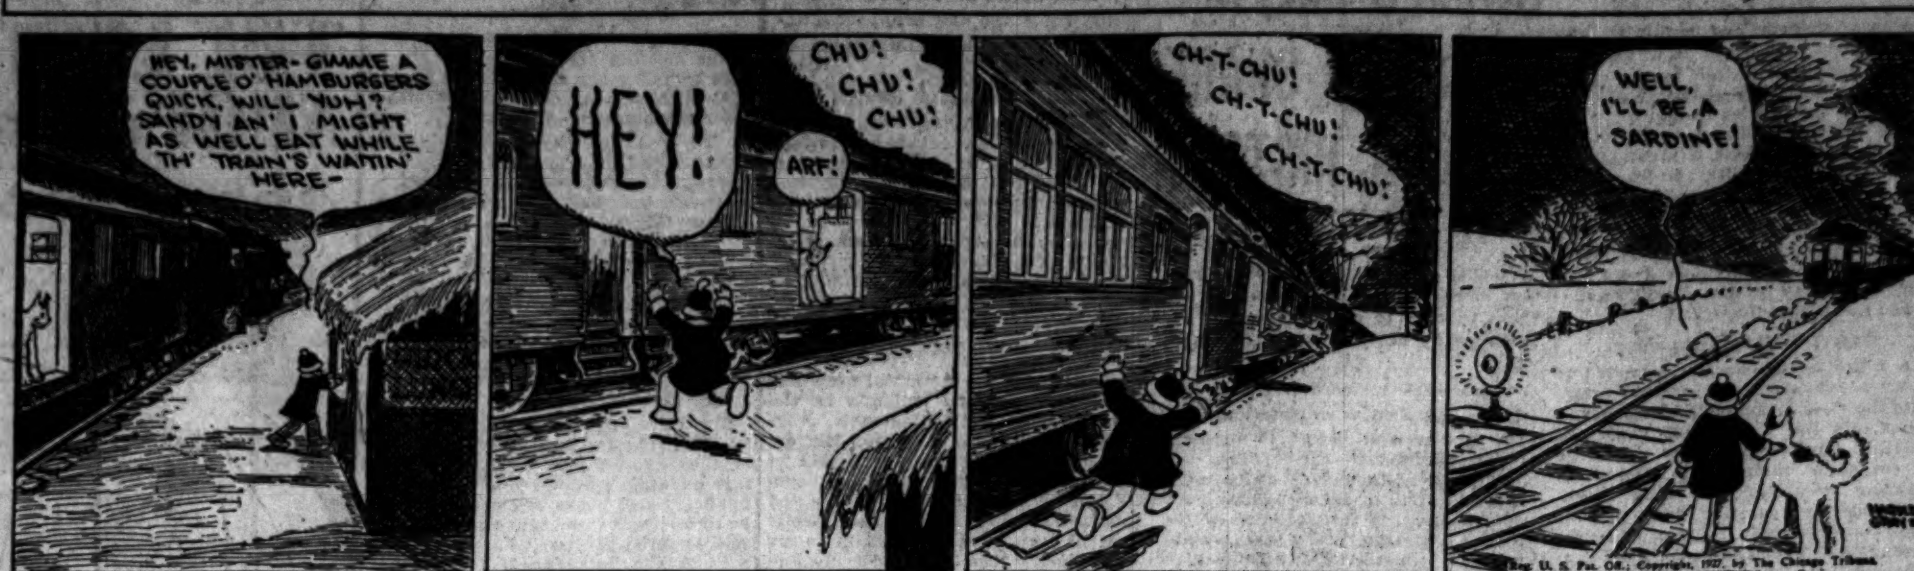

Miami, Fla., Feb. 7.—(Special.)—Tropical blossoms, plants and branches of trees from the gardens of the Deering estate at Cutler have been used to construct a bower in which the body of Charles Deering will start the journey to Chicago tomorrow.

The private car, independent, in which Mr. Deering traveled in recent years, has been hurriedly reconstructed to serve as a funeral car. It will be rare tropical plants and flowers in which Mr. Deering had great interest. Members of the family to accompany the body to Chicago are his wife, Mrs. Charles Deering, Mr. and Mrs. Chaney McCormick, Mrs. Richard Danielson, who arrived from Boston today, and Richard Deering, brother-in-law, who is expected to arrive from Cuba early tomorrow morning.

The funeral car has been scheduled to leave Miami at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. It is expected that Roger Deering, who was called from El Paso, will join the funeral party before it arrives at Chicago.

Simple services were conducted this afternoon at the family home in Cutler.

ARMY MAN SAYS U. S. LEADS RACE OF INSECURITY

Total Defense Costs $5.50
Per Capita, He Asserts

The United States not only leads the parade of nations in respect to military activity, but is practically the whole world's armory, says a leading military expert, Col. F. Smith, general staff United States army, declared yesterday before the Government club at the Drake hotel.

Figured on the basis of military strength in proportion to population, he continued, our strongest competitor is displaying twenty-seven times as much interest in preparations for war.

Col. Smith's talk at the Drake hotel followed one in the afternoon at a luncheon of various patriotic organizations in the Hotel Sherman, where he was preceded by Col. F. Lej. Parker, former United States military attaché in Mexico City. Col. Parker spoke on Mexico.

"Arbitration is all right," he declared, "when the other party can be counted to stand by the results of arbitration. In Mexico, however, years of arbitration have resulted only in violated agreements." He asserted that, if necessary, the United States must protect with military force the rights of its citizens in Mexico.

Chicago members of the American Legion have been urged in a communication from the organization's national defense committee to write their representatives in congress to demand they support a larger navy program.

The communication states that Representative Fred A. Britten estimates the United States will have only fifteen cruisers in 1931, against Britain's fifty-four and Japan's twenty-five.

President Coolidge's attitude on naval affairs is criticized in the defense committee letter.

The Legionnaires are urged to ask their representatives to vote for appropriations to start the construction of three small, fast cruisers.

WOMAN DENIES KIDNAPING CHILD; HEARING TODAY

(Picture on back page.) Lillian Hochstrasser, 25, who surrendered to the police yesterday after taking 11-year-old Brunhilda Koellner, daughter of Frank Koellner, 2749 Os-good street, to Denver, will be arraigned in the Town Hall court today on a charge of kidnapping. The child was sent to the juvenile home after Capt. John Naughton of the Sheffield avenue station heard that her home surroundings were not the best. Miss Hochstrasser was released on a $2,000 bond signed by Gottlieb Hochstrasser, her father.

The child's father intimated to Capt. Naughton that he would not prosecute.

How time flies. My good mother has gone to her rest, but I have faithfully relied upon her judgment and have given Syrup Pepsin to my two children since they were born. It is certainly a noble medicine and never fails of its purpose. I like to recommend it.

Dever to Be at Office Today; Cold Is Better

Mayer Dever, who was confined to his home yesterday with a cold and sore throat, said last night he expected to be back at his desk again today.

His physicians have advised him, however, to use his voice as little as possible and he may be unable to do any campaign speaking for a day or two.

THE ROAD OF TRAVEL LUXURY

TELLS CLOTHIERS ADVERTISING IS LIFE OF TRADE

Banker Urges the Use of Newspaper Space.

Building good will through consistent newspaper advertising is perhaps the essential factor in a merchant's fight for success, T. K. Kelly, Minneapolis banker and president of the K. Kelly Sales System, declared yesterday before the Illinois Retail Clothiers' and Furnishers' association.

"Existence of good will between the average retail store and the customer has taken a dangerous tumble since 1920," Mr. Kelly declared.

Says Confidence Is Best.

Prior to 1920, almost every store had a standing list of customers on whom most of the business stood. Customers had confidence in their merchants and traded consistently with them. This confidence, however, has slipped because of false advertising, lack of courtesy, etc. Unless the defect is checked, thousands of merchants, clothiers, bankers and many others face disaster.

"The remedy that is within reach, and what is quite probably the only remedy available, is three fold: truthful advertising, rebuilding of good will and regaining the confidence of customers."

"The coming year is not as bright as the last two or three from the standpoint of retail clothing sales," Mr. Kelly declared. Because of this, it is important, he said, to take greater strides in fighting for existence.

Calls Advertising Necessary.

"Two and a half per cent of the gross receipts of all sales should be turned into newspaper advertising. The returns will speak for themselves. At present an English dollar invested in advertising brings a return equal to the return of a $2 advertising investment in America. This condition is caused by the damaging tendency during the last six years in America to tell gross lies in advertising, exaggerating the goods to be sold. When this condition is changed, the ratio between English and American advertising will be reversed."

Mr. Kelly said some merchants send out traveling salesmen with false sales talks, or who make undue price cuts.

Best Brains in Demand.

"Every advertisement should be so dramatized that the reader will see a show in every article that is for sale. In this connection, competition will be so strong that every ounce of brains must be energized to create new ideas in conducting an old business—it will be the final example of survival of the fittest."

Morris R. Myers of Springfield, president of the state association, in his opening address, urged the support of his organization in getting legislative measures to enforce truth in advertising. He also asked support for an amendment that is now in the assembly to permit the garnishment of wages of public employees.

Spring styles this year will run to the extremely light colors, the delegates to the convention revealed. From shoes to hats a harmony of colors will predominate, suits being of light gray, brown and tan, under which will be figured shirts and pink and blue underwear. Spats, derbies and canes will also be in the vogue.

The convention, which is being held in the Hotel Sherman, will last until Wednesday night.

EDWARDS SEES BLOODLESS WAR OVER DRY LAW

Washington, D. C., Feb. 7.—[Special.]—Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Andrew W. Mellon, chief of dry law enforcement, and Senator Edward J. Edwards (Dem., N. J.), outstanding wet advocate in the senate, voiced their hearty approval today of the report of Dr. Charles Norris, chief medical examiner in New York City, that the poor and poisoned quality of whisky now available is a grave national menace.

Mr. Andrews declared that Dr. Norris' statement that pure whisky, even for medicinal purposes, is virtually unobtainable, is the best argument yet advanced for the immediate passage of the Andrews bill to create a quasi-federal corporation to control the manufacture and sale of medicinal liquors.

"Let me make this prediction," said Senator Edwards. "If wholesome and constructive legislation looking to a way out of this awful prohibition mess is not consummated before next year, both the Republican and Democratic parties will be ruptured with a schism in their 1928 conventions and elections that will equal the proportions of bloodless revolutions."

Dry Law Snarls Own Agent.

New York, Feb. 7.—[Special.]—An indictment charging four former prohibition agents and two "collectors" of graft with conspiracy to violate the Volstead act was returned by a federal grand jury today before Judge John C. Knox. A second indictment names one former prohibition agent, three rabbis, and eighteen other defendants of the Andrews bill to create a quasi-

ILLINOIS BEATS OHIO STATE, 43 TO 30
STIRLING WINS CLOSE DECISION OVER HUFFMANGEORGIAN RUBS OFF RING RUST
IN SLOW BOUTFails to Impress as Tunney Rival.

Fight Decisions

New York—Young Stirling beat Eddie Hoffman (10); Marty Burke stopped Blackie Miller (3); Pierre Gaudin beat Joe Cavallotti (1); Jack Hildreth beat Dick Faddi (4); Jacksonville, Fla.—Harry Kahn knocked out Steve Adams (3); Vic Walters beat Joe Haskin (5); Kid Howard knocked out Tom Torres (4).

Boston, Mass.—George Kid Lee won from Al Miller (10); Henry Lamm knocked out Willie Patterson (6); Al Trainer beat E. O. Wiley (6).

Atlantic City, N. J.—Al Gordon knocked out Willie Patterson (6); Al Trainer beat E. O. Wiley (6).

New York, N. Y.—Johnny Blake beat Tim McMan (10).

Chicago, Ill.—Eddie O'Dowd beat Fanchi Dore (12).

Buffalo, N. Y.—Art Wolgan and Chuck Wiggins, draw (6); Billie Willis knocked out Frankie Garcia (2).

Miami City, Ia.—Jackie Conway beat Bud Kenna (10); Pat Sweeney beat Johnny Ferguson (5).

Philadelphia, Pa.—Tommy West beat Matt Agle (10); Battling Levinsky beat Ray Hanna (10).

New York, Feb. 7.—[Special.]—Young Stirling won a close decision over Eddie Hoffman, coast-to-coast, tonight in a sloppy ten round bout at Madison Square Garden, but did not impress one of the smallest crowds to attend a pugilistic event in recent months with any qualifications as a heavyweight title prospect.

The Georgian came back to New York for the first time since his bout last summer with Paul Bernbach and didn't show anything new. He won the decision over Hoffman by a vote of 2 to 1. Referee Johnny Gallagher voted for Hoffman, while Judge Joe Angelo and Billy John voted for Stirling.

Stirling Wins Six Rounds.

The decision in Stirling's favor was justified, for he won six of the ten rounds, but it had not been for Hoffman's steady aggressiveness from first bell to last there would have been no fight. Stirling adopted a strictly defensive style from the outset and never once took the offensive. In this manner he countered Hoffman's rushes with straight left jabs, or in the clinches, with his tricky punches, behind Hoffman's head and on the outside, and once took the offensive. In this manner he countered Hoffman's rushes with straight left jabs, or in the clinches, with his tricky punches, behind Hoffman's head and on the outside, and once took the offensive.

Stirling Lands Hard in 15th.

Huffman, however, could do little with Stirling in the other rounds at long range, where the Georgian sent his rival's head snapping backward on left jabs repeatedly; or in the clinches, where Stirling's tricky right to the body and face and jaw landed frequently.

Stirling's cleanest punch was a long right to the jaw in the fifth round which caught Huffman coming in from the attack and sent the ex-boxing-garage boy back but kept coming at Stirling all the time.

Reiselt's Rally and Victory
Over Hall Thrills Cue Fans

BY HARLAND ROHM.

Otto Reiselt gave an exhibition last night of the stuff that makes champions. Gregory, hooked to the point where a tap would have sent him down for the count, he came through with a dazzling burst of skill which left his opponent gasping and the crowd hysterical, for two minutes.

Briefly, Reiselt was trailing Allen Hall, 47 to 32, in their world's championship three cushion billiard match. Reiselt ran three, Hall played a safety, and Reiselt missed. Hall scored one, Reiselt counted six. Hall missed and Reiselt ran a string of nine for his fifty points and victory.

Those last two innings were played in a storm of whistles, stamping feet and cheers, but Reiselt couldn't hear them. Usually smiling, his face turned into a tight-lipped mask. He even forgot to chew his inevitable orange lozenge and went around the table three times sighting each shot. But when he shot it was sure, Hall sat in his corner, laughing. Reiselt's finishing charge was too dramatic to be begrudged him the victory.

Had not Reiselt staged that brilliant finish Angle Kieckhefer would have seemed almost spectacular. Kieckhefer had been leading Earl Lookabaugh by a point or two until late in the match when Lookabaugh shot ahead. In the sixty-second inning he was ahead 44 to 43 and Kieckhefer was talking to himself—not baby talk, either. He had missed a score of shots by a whisker, but, facing defeat, the courage of a champion came to the fore.

He looked at a safety lay of the balls, to drive the length of the table to a frozen ball to count. And he continued to count until he ran six for 49. Playing for one, he missed, but when Lookabaugh also missed, he got his final point in his next turn at the table.

Raimundo Campanioni and Tim Denton dueling for two hours in the afternoon and all they will get for their pains is a chance to do it all over again. Campanioni won, 50-48, in 60 innings, but a protest on a shot he made in the forty-third inning brought a ruling from the tournament board that the match was "no contest." It was ordered replayed.

The protest came up when Denton was leading, 45 to 29, and highballing along with a speed that indicated the game would end before the fiftieth inning. Campanioni scored, but immediately after Referee Charles McElligott.

Tiger Jack Burns of California won the decision over Midgit Mike O'Dowd of Louisville in the ten round windup of Johnny Coulton's boxing show at White City last night.

The Californian, who now is making Chicago his home, won the verdict through aggressiveness. He did most of the leading in every round, while O'Dowd was content to hold back and counter. O'Dowd landed the harder punches, especially in the fifth round where he slowed up Tiger with several right uppercuts to the stomach. In the second session, Mickey planted a solid right on Burns' jaw and Tiger went back on his heels.

Paul Allen won the decision over Jackie London in the six round semi-windup. Paul forced the milling in every round and was successful in keeping out of range. Jackie's left hooked a few times with left hooks to the head, but they did not even slow up the aggressive Allen.

In the other bouts, which went the limit, decisions: Cossy Dolan won from Pete Pancho, Matt Schults defeated Johnny Villard, Jackie Dugan was given the verdict over Charley Lupica, Sid Kelly defeated Fernando Gonzales and Bill Hall was the winner over Eddie Fay.

MISSED ONE

gott had called the count Denton protested Campanioni had hit the red ball in coming off the white. McElligott said he hadn't seen it and ordered the game played out under Denton's protest.

Campanioni, taking advantage of the break, finished a run of four and in the next inning ran six. Denton was so upset by the incident that he counted only four billiards in the seventeen innings to the end of the game.

Later, after canvassing the other contestants who were watching the game, the press box, and some spectators, McElligott said he was convinced he had made a mistake.

Before the forty-third inning the game had been all Denton.

Gray haired Charles McCourt returned to the billiard game which brought him the championship in 1916 and chalked up his first victory of the tournament, giving Arthur Thurnblad his first defeat, 50 to 31.

McCourt was hitting the balls hard and accurately after a slow start. Thurnblad had a lead of a point or two up to the twenty-first inning, where McCourt caught him with a run of three and went out in front with six in the twenty-fifth, 18 to 14, to stay there to the end. Today's schedule follows:

1:30—Thurnblad vs. Keener.
3:30—Hall vs. Lookabaugh.
7:30—Copulos vs. McCourt.
9:30—Kieckhefer vs. Campanioni.

Mrs. Huddleston
Eyes Tentative
Stage Contracts

Long Beach, Cal., Feb. 7.—[Special.]—Mrs. Myrtle Huddleston of this city, first woman to swim the Catalina channel, today received fruits of that conquest in heaped messages of congratulation, clusters of flowers, a number of tentative stage and movie contracts.

Coaxing his mother's rudeness back to normal in which Mrs. Huddleston, 11 year old boy, Everett, student in Saint Anthony's parish school, for whom she attempted the swim. The dark haired lady, who sobbed the only encouragement which penetrated the hysteria of which Mrs. Huddleston swam her last mile through the fog bank on Sunday morning, hovered over his mother's bedside.

The boy today told how Charley Toth, gray haired Bostonian who swam the English channel and who acted as captain of Mrs. Huddleston's attempt, and Waldo Drake, a San Pedro reporter, saved his mother's life, sustaining her unconscious form from their boat while the launch of her swimming coach, Johnny Farrell of Long Beach, drew up and took Mrs. Huddleston aboard.

TILDEN'S TENNIS.

WILLIAM T. TILDEN II. at No. 1 in the national tennis rankings is a habit. When that ranking was about to be wiped out for 1926 because of injuries which affected Tilden's play, Vincent Richards elected to join the Pyle troupe of professionals, so Big Bill for the seventh year in succession tops the singles.

There was debate at the annual meeting over Richards, as he had been placed first and a substantial minority favored his name. In that position, including Tilden, who is a pretty good sportsman in such matters, Richards perhaps deserved the honor and we have no fault to find with his turning pro if he wished, but it would seem incongruous to place at the head of the amateurs a player who could not again aspire to amateur ranking.

What concerns tennis followers, however, is not so much Tilden's ranking as whether he will retain the form which held him so long almost unchallenged as the world's premier racket wielder. He unquestionably is the bulk of America's defense of the Davis cup this year. If Tilden is not in top form, Yankee tennis will be broken by the threatening French team. Even with Tilden recovered from all injuries, the result is uncertain.

France, apparently, must sooner or later take the international bowl. Its challengers are young and numerous. America has as yet no men coming up who rank with our veterans, weakened by the defection of Richards to the pros.

Chicago's interest in the singles listing centers on George Lott at No. 9. The University of Chicago boy has not advanced as rapidly as at one time expected from the improvement he was showing, but he is still young enough to go much farther.

Winner.

From out the frozen north the Snow-King Unshakable on the way his post-up wrath. On having bent, he laid the whole world waste. And left grim devastation in his path. With cruel disdain, he sealed the river's lips—These lips still murmuring of the autumn flood.

We're in the Rear Guard.

Dear Harvey: Are we still in the race or have the opposites finally caught up? I witnessed a basketball game between two Indiana high schools, preceded by a conflict between girls' teams of the same schools. After a visitor had made a racket, a loyal rooter from behind me yelled, "Watch your man, Miriam, watch your man!" I looked, but hanged if I could see him.

O Temporal! O Moral!

The Wake on Friday night attended the Red, White and Blue club charity dance at the Arragon. Smoking was permitted and nearly every one—yes we said nearly every one—smoked.

Dear Harvey: "The Song of All Songs," recently published in The Wake, you may be interested to know, was written by old Stephen Foster himself and just about as bad a job as most of its modern imitations in vaudeville. I have the entire song in my collection. "Read 'Em and Weep: The Songs You Forget to Remember," published by Doubleday, Page & Co. Sigmund Spahn.

Dempsey Wins Fight Against Infection; Leaves Sick Bed

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 7.—[Special.]—Jack Dempsey, left arm bandaged and in a sling, was out of bed and around his home for an hour today, considerably improved in his fight against blood poison. The former champion last night had some milk toast, his first food in three days.

Dr. Warren Clark lanced and drained the left wrist and left fingers this morning in the seventh such operation since Dempsey took to bed here last Friday.

Plans Trip to Woods.

According to Estelle Taylor, Dempsey's wife, who is attending him, Dempsey hopes to go ahead with his plans to get out of doors and rough it in the mountain camp at Campo, Cal., which he was outfitting last week when he fell ill.

Jack realizes he will not be able to strike with his left arm or use his fist for a long time," Mrs. Dempsey said, "but he intends to condition himself anyway. He cannot do any boxing in camp for a time, of course, but he will go ahead and do his preliminary training. It ought to help toughen up his sore arm and bring it around that much sooner."

Admires Sam Flowers.

Dempsey got some sleep last night between dressings, which were arranged every half hour. It was his first sleep since last Friday. The former champion retains day and night

New York, Feb. 7.—The baseball magnates, who have had more meetings this winter than Sam Langford and the late Sam McVey had in 20 years of pugilism, will hold one more meeting in New York tomorrow to adopt their schedules for the approaching business season and knit the raveled trouser-legs of proprietary dignity which was lacerated severely a few weeks ago by the hounds of the press.

Some of the magnates came on in time to attend the baseball writers' annual taffy pull last night, at which Mr. B. Dreyfus, the noted Pittsburgh sportsman, was outgunned for his fairness in firing Max Carey and Babe Adams in reward for their long service to him. Judge Landis also joined the journalists at their board.

SPEAKING OF SPORTS

BY DON MAXWELL.

The current issue of Sport Scandals is ready for the curtain. The public's interest, maintained for the longest period in the history of winter sport, in waiting and even the addition of the act by the basketball players of Wabash fails to stir the customers' enthusiasm.

The promoters of sport are not likely to forget this fast fading winter. They'll probably wipe out its records under the label of "trouble." They haven't enjoyed the scandals.

Jacob Ruppert, owner of the Yankees, was asked in New York yesterday if the American league meeting scheduled for tomorrow were to be serious. And Mr. Ruppert is quoted as saying: "Dear me, no," or words to that effect, "we've had nothing but serious meetings all winter. We hope to have one that isn't."

Baseball has been the headline act in the scandal show. More folks were interested in baseball than any other of the sports. And that's probably still true, despite the revelations of the last few months.

The fans never have shown an aversion to hipdropping. They continue to patronize wrestling matches; they pay to be thrilled by the lion tamer. And the spectacle of organized baseball taking a bow for self-sacrificing in coming out of the most famous and valuable players in history because of a taint of wrong and then bowing anew when it welcomed these same players back into the fold because there wasn't any to be brought more amusement than disgust.

Judge Landis probably will arouse the same interest this winter when he leans on the head of his cane and studies the antics of his employees' employees as he has in the past.

The public must have been tickled by his Solomon-like attitude toward Cobb and Speaker. He released the pages of testimony indicating that baseball's heart was broken because Cobb and Speaker had violated that trust which baseball demands of its servants. He said not a word to indicate that he disagreed with the findings of the directors of the American league. He was silent for weeks, while the customers were being deluded by this earnest voluminous report and by the American league's attitude into believing that Cobb and Speaker had done something wrong.

And then he suddenly broke the silence to pronounce Cobb and Speaker innocent. Not a line of new testimony had been produced, not a word had been expunged from the original record.

It might be difficult to understand the logic of his two positions. But of that the public isn't worried.

They wanted Cobb and Speaker cleared. They were. And that's that.

Then there's the skit staged by the tennis rulers. Vinnie Richards is a liebes the best record of any tennis player in the country and remains a bona fide amateur until the end of the current tennis season. He turns pro in order to make enough money to support his family.

The bosses of amateur tennis meet in solemn convocation and ignore Richards' record as though it never had been made. They leave Vinnie in the cold. He has violated high principles of amateurism as expressed by those apostles of purity, Tilden, Cochet, etc.

At this Richards laughs and says: "They're all"—meaning these old playmates of his—"more professional than I am." He threatens to tour the country to tell the rustics the truth about the amateur tennis code.

More amusement.

Even chess broke onto the stage. Dr. Emanuel Lasker charged sludgery in the staging of a world's championship tournament. Somebody turned the clock ahead on him.

Scandal and lots of it. O, it's been a big season.

The moralist might find a great deal to say. He might give that old recitation about murder will out. He might recall that there's always been much ado when hypocrites quarreled.

But the sport fan isn't a moralist. He's a simple fellow, looking for amusement and he'll probably find it again this summer in his tennis, his chess, and his baseball, even as he did before the season of "The Great Scandal."

Champaign, Ill., Feb. 7.—[Special.]—The University of Illinois basketball team tonight defeated Ohio State, 43 to 30, averaging a one point defeat at Columbus early in the season. Illinois led at the half, 23 to 14.

Capt. "Pug" Daugherty led Illinois' attack with eight field baskets and one free throw. McMillen led the Buckeyes by catching five baskets and a one free throw. Capt. Hunt of Ohio played a strong defensive game, and by long passes worked the ball to the goal numerous times.

Ohio took the lead at the beginning of the game, scoring two field baskets before Illinois got under way. The two teams tied at 11 all, but Illinois soon forged ahead and was never in danger thereafter. Illinois clinched with Iowa at Iowa City Saturday night. Lineup:

ILLINOIS (43): O'DOWD (10), HUFFMAN (10), STIRLING (10), BURNS (10), ALLEN (10). OHIO STATE (30): HUNT (10), McMILLAN (10), JACKSON (10), BROWN (10), WHITE (10).

Bloomington, Ind., Feb. 7.—[Special.]—Indiana has little trouble defeating Minnesota, 42 to 16, in a Western conference game tonight. In the second half, when his team had a big lead, Coach Everett Dent sent in ten of his reserves.

Between halves, Coach Pat Page presented twenty-four "I" sweaters to men who fought on the Indiana football game last fall. Ten of them went to seniors.

The players honored were: Bennett, Nowell, Bishop, Winston, Ryers, Tobin, Weaver, Hellman, Hall, Moss, Stephenson, Malloy, Smith, Briner, Fisher, Harrell, Hill, Garrison, Butts, Catterton, Randolph, Matthews, Beckner, Sibley. Lineup:

INDIANA (42): HUFFMAN (10), STIRLING (10), BURNS (10), ALLEN (10), O'DOWD (10). MINNESOTA (16): HUNT (10), McMILLAN (10), JACKSON (10), BROWN (10), WHITE (10).

PURDUE, 43; FRANKLIN, 34

Lafayette, Ind., Feb. 7.—[Special.]—Purdue celebrated the end of a long layoff tonight by defeating the Franklin college quintet, 43 to 34, in a game featured by the accurate basket tossing of both teams. Coach Warner of Franklin used eleven men in an effort to stop the Hoosiers' rush. Franklin trailed most of the game, being behind, 24 to 19, at the half. Lyons, Franklin center, was high point man with 16. Score:

PURDUE (43): HUFFMAN (10), STIRLING (10), BURNS (10), ALLEN (10), O'DOWD (10). FRANKLIN (34): HUNT (10), McMILLAN (10), JACKSON (10), BROWN (10), WHITE (10).

DE PAUL, 30; ST. MARY'S, 19

After trailing the St. Mary's college basketball team of Winona, Minn., for three periods, De Paul university, headed by Johnny Bordes, staged a brilliant rally in the last quarter to win, 30 to 19. With the entrance of Bordes into the game in the final quarter De Paul carried the ball under the visitors' basket at will. Lineup:

DE PAUL (30): HUFFMAN (10), STIRLING (10), BURNS (10), ALLEN (10), O'DOWD (10). ST. MARY'S (19): HUNT (10), McMILLAN (10), JACKSON (10), BROWN (10), WHITE (10).

for freshman material and urge upon him the educational advantages of good old St. Olaf's institution.

Mr. Evans probably would be willing to become a cut price president, as there is quite a difference between his present earnings as an umpire and journalist and the $40,000 wage of Mr. Johnson. He could afford to accept less than Mr. Johnson's price and still improve his situation, and he has remarked many times in the last few years that he was weary of umpiring.

Proves His Courage

Will is known as a Johnson man, having been a protégé of Ban Johnson in his early days as an umpire and a loyal subject of the vacationing president to the very last. However, he is a courageous man, as attested by the fact that he once fought a fist fight with Ty Cobb, who got him by the necktie and almost hanged him, and he knows the characters and politics of the American league as well as any other.

Cobb, by the way, advised your correspondent today that he had received offers from two clubs in the National league and two in the American and had decided to play in the American for one more year, at least, merely because it had been stated during his season of trouble that he would never be allowed to play in the league again.

Ty's face is rather careworn and he admits that he has been under a great strain in his most casual meetings with people, always feeling that he must sit down and explain his entire case in order that one more person may understand and believe him.

SHEEP—Bulk of sales yesterday, 11.00@11.25.

The smallest Monday cattle receipts since last August at 18,000 graded only fair in quality for the initial day of the week and sold comparatively slowly at little price change.

Offerings carried fewer well finished 1,500 to 1,700 lb steers than the previous Monday's arrivals. High temperatures for this season of the year had a tendency to curtail demand for beef helping to block further gains in values of cattle on the hoof.

Choice 1,250 lb steers reached $12.75 yesterday, the lightest steers bringing a Monday top price since yearlings outlasted heavy the middle of last month. Medium 1,125 lb steers went at $11.35 and a few head of 900 lb yearlings at $11.35. Butcher stock was steady to strong. Calves were uneven, steady to $1.00 lower, selected vealers up to $14.50. Stockers and feeders were strong.

Disappointingly small hog receipts following last week's satisfactory market, sent prices up 100 to 150 in a spirit of the early trade. Light and underweight cleared at the full strength, sprit top at $12.75 for 160@170 lb averages equaling the highest since early last November. Short loads at $12.50@12.85 no criterion.

Support was lacking in butcher grades of hogs after outside demand had been satisfied and $12.50@12.85 hogs finished in an uneven slump, with most of the gain erased late. Prime 250 lb butchers early reached $12.40 and $15 pounds, $12.25, while larger local hogs played a $12.00 limit on their purchases, widening the price range sharply after mid-session. General average moved up to $12.15, against $12.10 previous Monday, when top was at $12.25.

Lambs at Year's High.
A shortage yesterday in face of brisk outside competition for lambs sent prices to new high levels for the year, top at $13.50 standing highest since Dec. 6, against $12.00 the previous Monday. Sheep receipts at 14,000 were smallest of the year for Monday, with today's advance estimate calling for only 15,000, against 24,000 last Tuesday. Outside paid the top, packers buying up to $12.55, with bulk of good to choice light and heavy weights at $12.00@12.25. Fall shorn at $12.75 was highest since early in November. Aged sheep and feeding lambs held firm.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 18,000 cattle, 44,000 hogs and 14,000 sheep.

ADVERTISE IN THE TRIBUNE

STEEL INDUSTRY JOGS ALONG AT SATISFYING RATE

BY O. A. MATHER.

Although not showing the expansion that marked the first month of 1926, the steel industry last month jogged along at a comfortable rate. Ingot production totaled 3,806,888 tons and the mills operating above 81 per cent of capacity, according to the American Iron and Steel Institute.

While output fell considerably below the 4,180,000 tons of January, 1926, it should be recalled that the industry closed the year and a half slump, decidedly in the spring, and recovered in the summer. Production now is being held close to actual demand, as shown by the fact that ingot output last month was only slightly above the 3,470,000 tons of December. Daily production averaged 146,413 tons, compared with 133,338 in December.

Gain in Republic Earnings.

Last year's prosperous condition of the steel industry again is evidenced in the annual report of the Republic Iron and Steel Company, showing substantially larger earnings more in 1926. Net profits for 1926 were $5,065,023, after charges and taxes. This is equivalent, after preferred dividends, to $11.05 a share on the $100,000 common stock. Net profits for 1925 were $4,852,823, equivalent to $10.72 a share. Surplus at the end of 1926 was $38,816,162, compared with $23,642,488 at the end of 1925.

Validated orders of finished and semi-finished products for Dec. 31 last amounted to $1,707,000, compared with $1,600,000 for Dec. 31, 1925. Sales for 1926, compared with 1925, were $50,000,000, or 10 per cent over 1925.

Sales of gas for industrial purposes showed a marked increase, the gain being more than 15 per cent. Net income, after all charges and taxes, was $5,065,023, equivalent to $11.05 a share on $100,000 common stock outstanding at the end of the year. Net income for 1925 was $4,852,823, equivalent to $10.72 a share on $100,000 common stock outstanding at the end of the year. Total surplus now is $31,972,748.

Peoples Gas Properties.

The Peoples Gas Light and Coke company, which supplies Chicago with gas, had another prosperous period last year. It set a new high record with sales of 26,687,643,692 cubic feet of gas, an increase of nearly 10 per cent over 1925. Sales of gas for industrial purposes showed a marked increase, the gain being more than 15 per cent. Net income, after all charges and taxes, was $5,065,023, equivalent to $11.05 a share on $100,000 common stock outstanding at the end of the year. Net income for 1925 was $4,852,823, equivalent to $10.72 a share on $100,000 common stock outstanding at the end of the year. Total surplus now is $31,972,748.

Brokers' Losses Decline.

A further decline in the amount of credit used in stock market speculation is shown in the latest data on brokers' loans. The New York stock exchange announced yesterday that loans reported by its members totaled $13,738,738.28 on Jan. 31, a decline of $154,073.91 from Dec. 31, and also a decrease of $374,371.81 from Jan. 31, 1926. The federal reserve board reported that brokers' loans by New York City member banks totaled $2,700,000,000 on Feb. 2, a decline of $1,829,000 from the previous week. This was the fourth successive decline. The amount now is $261,996,000 below a year ago.

Dividend news was favorable yesterday. The Ohio Oil company declared an extra of 80 cents, making a total of $2.00 a share. The company also authorized the payment of 25 cents extra. A disbursement of $3 a share was declared on the common stock of the St. Mary's Mineral Land company. A similar dividend was paid last week on the only payment on the stock during 1926.

L. M. E. Wahl company reports gross sales for 1926 of $4,491,495, against $4,234,946 for 1925. Net income for 1926 was $105,567, as compared with a deficit of $109,133 in 1925.

Profit and loss surplus stood at $667,798 at the end of 1926, compared with $618,103 at the close of 1925.

Current assets amounted to $2,861,020 as of Dec. 31, 1926, and current liabilities to $160,557, a ratio of over 17 to 1.

Net working capital at the beginning of 1927 amounted to $1,690,463.

After paying no dividends on its 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock since July 1, 1925, the company has resumed payments on this stock by the declaration of a dividend of $1.75 a share for the quarter ended Sept. 30, 1926.

This is payable April 1, 1927, to stock of record March 25, 1927, thus reducing the accumulations on the preferred stock to 8 per cent.

No dividends have been paid on the common stock since July 1, 1924.

The preferred stock is of medium grade and speculative.

The common stock is a speculation at present.

WHEAT SAGS ON FADING PROSPECT OF FARM RELIEF

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Weakness in Liverpool wheat, incident to world's shipments of 21,000,000 bu., or nearly 3,000,000 bu. in excess of the previous week, and an increase of $912,000 bu. on ocean passage, combined with the expression of prominent members of congress that the McNary-Haugen bill was unconstitutional and that President Coolidge would not sign it, led to fairly general selling of futures here with a decline of 1/4 to 1/2 cent. The close was about the bottom with net losses of 1/4 to 1/2 cent. with May $1.41 1/4, July $1.34 1/4, and September $1.21 1/4.

More Pressure on Wheat

Fired long on the selling side of wheat and local sentiment was less bullish than of late, but the market received good support on the decline with buying against bids a factor in checking the break. Weakness abroad was a factor, as Liverpool closed 1/4 to 1/2 lower with further liquidation in evidence in the March delivery.

Houses with southwestern connections were sellers of May, regarded as hedging against cash grain, and Kansas City lost 1/4 as compared with Chicago, while Minneapolis was little changed. Winnipeg lost 1/4 to 1/2 with selling by a leading exporter and a large line elevator house a feature. Export demand was slow with sales of 200,000 bu. in all positions, including 50,000 bu. durum to Italy. The trade paid considerable attention to developments at Washington, and private advices indicated less favorable prospects for the passage of farm relief legislation.

A decrease of 1,123,000 bu. in the domestic visible supply failed to bring in any buying of consequence. The total is down to 54,535,000 bu. against 55,928,000 bu. last year. Spot premiums here were steady to 1/4 lower on contract grades with a car of No. 2 hard selling at 1/4 under May toward the last, and at Omaha the basis was 1/4 lower with No. 2 hard 1/4 under Chicago May, the widest discount on the crop.

Local Bulls Buy Corn.
Local professionals were the best buyers of corn and with buying by shorts and holders of bids were instrumental in checking the decline. Continued poor shipping demand and an increase of 2,774,000 bu. in the visible had a depressing effect. Total stocks at terminals is 41,646,000 bu. against 37,718,000 bu. last year. Weather over the belt was mild, and unfavorable for hauling.

Houses with eastern connections were persistent sellers of oats while the buying was by local shorts and scattered commission houses. There was exchanging between May and July at 1/4 difference. Shipping demand continues slow. Rye was fairly active with houses with seaboard connections buying the deferred deliveries, and the latter were also taken against sales of May. Reports from Germany were regarded as bullish, although agitation for a reduction in the duty tends to restrict buying by importers. Rotterdam took a little rye at the seaboard.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

Sentiment was more bearish on wheat after the close than of late, and the market was regarded as in need of new influences of a strengthening character if prices were to be maintained during the period of large world's shipments, and increased movement of cash wheat in the southwest. The proposed farm relief legislation at Washington has added a factor to the situation that is considered as likely to result in erratic price changes until it is out of the way. The tendency is to take the selling side on bulks for the time.

With trade in corn largely of a professional character, the market is expected to fluctuate somewhat erratically, with the shipping demand tending to increase bearish sentiment in some quarters. Bids are expected to be hard to maintain, temporarily at least.

Shelled corn from corn harvested in areas can be shipped into nonfertilized territory if it is free from dirt, broken corn, etc., and free from evidence of the borer.

At the time Liverpool wheat closed yesterday May was about 6 1/2c over the same delivery in Chicago, the smallest difference on the crop.

Mild weather has started wheat to green up in parts of the west, and there was some buying of new crop futures here yesterday on the belief that a return of cold weather would bring in numerous reports of damage due to freezing and thawing.

There was further selling of May wheat here for southwestern account, presumably hedging against the larger movement of cash grain in that section. Kansas City May closed 7 1/2c under Chicago, against 7 1/2c under at Saturday.

A board of trade membership sold at $7.00 net to the buyer, with 1927 dues paid, the price being the same as the previous sale.

While supplies of wheat on ocean passage increased 5,012,000 bu. last week to a total of 65,004,000 bu., the latter is being made a record. On March 13, 1925, the aggregate amount afloat was reported at 60,834,000 bu., and there have been numerous times in recent years when the amount was greater than at present.

Grain traders gave a great deal of attention to a statement credited to Representative Ditcher of Kansas, co-author of the grain futures act, in which he said that the McNary-Haugen bill was unconstitutional and would be so declared by the Supreme court in case President Coolidge signed it. He said that never will he support a bill to boost farm products.

Samples of new Australian wheat received at Liverpool show quality to be excellent. Private reports indicate there may be a little difficulty experienced in selling full cargoes when they arrive, the latter is in position on the part of both United Kingdom and continental merchants to buy only in small lots for immediate distribution.

UPLIFT FORCES IN BUSINESS FOUND IN TRADEMARKS

BY HARPER LEECH.

The sin of misbranding as presented by the Federal Trade commission reports brings forth two ideas.

1. The immense moral gains from the combined growth of trade marks and advertising. When business is created by the expenditure of millions to acquire confidence in a name or picture, to carry conviction of worth and utility to the mass mind by a symbol; keeping the faith becomes a matter of conserving a great asset. Faith keeping becomes a habit and habit is now considered to be a great part of what we call "human nature."
2. If the implied moral obligations upon business, revealed in the trade commission reports, were applied to the field of politics, reform and criticism of the capitalist social order, there would have to be a drastic change of front on the part of many groups, who profess to be engaged in the work of making a better world.

Like any human institution, American business can profit from frank criticism by sincere and candid men—mistaken or not. Business did profit from the muckraking it received from 1904 to 1912. Abuses were removed, efficiency and human relations were bettered. The out of date political hangovers from that time present no serious worry today.

Satires on business like those of Lewis and Menckes are tonic and antiseptic, even if annoying and grotesque at times. They prevent paralysis by self-satisfaction. They prevent the suffocation of intelligent analysis by shibboleth, cant, and goo talk.

Not so much can be said for more uncensored groups, who band themselves into misbranded organizations and simultaneously pan and panhandle the industrial regime.

It is said that there will be an attempt this year to stage an industrial disturbance in Detroit similar to that of Passaic, N. J., last year and the steel strike of 1919. The purpose of the plan, of course, is to discredit the American Federation of Labor by starting something that the tactical and common sense of the bona fide labor movement has practically passed up. Probably nothing will come of the scheme, but if anything does happen it will be interesting to hear the same old stereotypes from the same misbranded and interlocked groups who always "intervene" in such affairs, with an air of shocked surprise and high disinterestedness. This kind of thing has been getting to a routine basis ever since the Lawrence strike in 1912.

Some of the gilt is worn off, however. Not a few Americans now smile cynically when they hear that "American youth," "liberals," "American churches," and what not, have resorted to such and so. The virtually self-appointed, self-perpetuating, and variously financed groups, who use these honorific terms, have at last overcome the publicity game and have become too well known.

NEW ISSUE
$550,000
UNION WATERWORKS COMPANY
One-Year 5% Gold Debentures

Dated February 1st, 1927
Due February 1st, 1928
Interest payable February 1st and August 1st at Chicago, Illinois. Coupon bonds in denominations of $1,000 and $500, which may be registered as to principal. Redeemable all or in part at any time at the option of the Company on thirty days' published notice at 100% and accrued interest. The Company agrees to pay Normal Federal Income Tax not exceeding 2%. Central Trust Company of Illinois, Trustee.

The following information is summarized from the letter of Mr. E. S. Mayes, President of the Company:

CHINESE CASES HELP LARD

The Chinese situation is having an effect on the lard market, owing to prospects of a scarcity in oriental oils, and with lard in continued demand, it is being sold at a higher price in the early trading, only to react in months as usual, with rise in higher grades and lower in lower grades. New York cleared 2,897,000 lbs. lard and 1,700,000 lbs. meat for export. Prices follow:

Scissors Cut Away Hair, Skirt Hems, and Victorian Ideas

There comes a tide in the affairs of women which, taken by the scissors, may lead to another joyous gush of youth. For many of the sex, that tide began to roll in when the first hair clipping came a few years ago. Along with the scissors away skirt hems, and there hasn't been much to relate the darlings to the age in which they calmly and happily bled.

Whether we are just kidding ourselves with short hair and skirt that we are as young as the next one does not matter much, so long as the urge to do something useful possesses a woman. And while there may be a few ridiculous members of our sex whose emancipated hair and dress inspire them to more ridiculous conduct, the general run of women have recovered five or ten years of worth while activity with the up to date mode of culture and frock. Of that I am convinced.

And so is L. M., who writes me: "Last year a college chum—older than I—visited me. She was dashing, sparkling, and yet not too effervescent. She had just left her only son, a cadet at West Point, so you know she is in her forties. I said to her: 'We hadn't met for years. She was astounded to find I still kept the hair of my youth.' 'My dear, cut it,' she advised. 'It's as passé as your father-in-law's suit.' But she cut the locks and took a yard off your skirt."

"Which I did. Isn't it funny how a voice from the past can change your whole life? I have the good old braids to my knees upstairs with a substitute for grandma's mothballs. And what do you think? I used to be a writer before my marriage. With the pleasant thrill of newspaper clothes, the old line came to me once more. I am writing again and what's more—selling, thus proving, beside raising asters and delphiniums and two coking daughters, I can still drool out a yarn or two."

My advice to any woman marooned on an island of her own making, but possessed of the demon of unrest, is to begin revolutionizing herself before revolutionizing her life, or to work them together right from the start. There is nothing half so true as that old bromide about clothes giving a woman a feeling of assurance nothing else will give her.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.
W. H. G.: WHEN THE FEET PERSEVERE, fresh hot water must be used, but it should be followed by the use of cold water, so that the open pores may be closed again. Pouring cold water into the bathtub over the feet will effect this. It should be done quickly. This foot treatment is also recommended for any one suffering from insomnia or headache. It draws the blood from the brain. Send stamped addressed envelope for my booklet, "Care of the Feet."

TIED: YOUR TROUBLE IS TOO much sleep and not sufficient exercise. Eight hours sleep is sufficient for the average person, allowing extra time if you have lost sleep the previous night. A three or four mile walk every day would be an excellent habit to form. I have a set of exercises which may be done at home—"My Youth Preservers." Send a stamped addressed envelope for them, as they are just what you need.

MRS. H. L.: YOU WILL HAVE TO regulate your supply of bread—and your rolls are a form of bread—in the food which is responsible for more adipose than any other food. One slice of bread with each meal, or one roll, should be sufficient. If you wish my reducing instructions I'll be glad to mail them to you for a stamped addressed envelope.

BILLY: PROTRUDING EARS ARE corrected by an operation. It is not a painful operation and usually effective. It is done by clipping the cords at the back of the ears. Any good surgeon will do it for you.
